Contents

1. Human choice and ICT policy: Introduction to the HCC8 Conference proceedings
   Chrisanthi Avgerou, Matthew L. Smith, and Peter van den Besselaar

2. Communication, information, and ICT policy: Enabling research frameworks
   Robin Mansell

Part 1: The shaping of national and international ICT policies and their effects

3. The argumentative structure of spatial data infrastructure initiatives in America and Africa
   Yola Georgiadou & Vincent Homburg

4. ICT policy as a governance domain: The case of Greece and the European Commission
   Ioanna Chini

5. National variations of the information society: Evidence from the Greek case
   Dimitris Boucas

6. Technology, globalisation, and governance: Research perspectives and prospects
   Tony Cornford & Diego D. Navarra

7. Globalisation and national security issues for the state: Implications for national ICT policies
   Jackie Phahlamohlaka

8. Next generation ICT policy in South Africa: Towards a human development-based ICT policy
   Walter Brown & Irwin Brown
9. Challenges of ICT policy for rural communities: A case study from South Africa
Mpostol Jeremia Mashinini

Part 2: Harnessing the empowering capacity and ICT

10. Digital divides and the role of policy and regulation: a qualitative study
Panayiota Tsatsou

11. Empowerment through ICT: A critical discourse analysis of the Egyptian ICT policy
Bernd Carsten Stahl

12. Egyptian women artisans: ICTs are not the entry to modern markets
Leila Hassanin

13. Institutional strategies towards improving health information systems (HIS) in Sub-Saharan Africa
Solomon B. Bishaw

14. A human environmentalist approach to diffusion in ICT policies
Elaine Byrne & Lizette Weilbach

15. ICT and socio-economic development: A university’s engagement in a rural community in Yola, Nigeria
Jainaba M.L. Kah & Muhammadou M. O. Kah

16. Lessons from a dropped ICT curriculum design project: A retrospective view
Roohollah Honarvar

Part 3: The shaping of the institutions of the information society

17. 15 years of ways of Internet governance: Towards a new agenda for action
Jacques Berleur

18. Governmental policies for ICT diffusion and leadership legitimacy in grassroots movements
Magda Hercheui
19. Examining trust in mobile banking transactions: The case of M-PESA in Kenya
   Olga Morawczynski & Gianluca Miscione

20. Social networks within filtered ICT networks: A case study of the growth of internet usage within Iran
   Farid Shirazi

21. A no-IPR model as solution to reuse and understanding of information systems
   Kai K. Kimppa

22. Measuring information societies: A critical study of the Infostate framework
   Anouk Mukherjee

23. Open access barriers: An action research
   Mathias Klang

Part 4: Panels

24. Free and Open Source Software in low-income countries: Emergent properties?
   Gianluca Miscione, Dorothy Gordon, & Kevin Johnston

25. Evaluating ‘Connecting for Health’: Policy implications of a UK mega-programme
   Kathy McGrath, Jane Hendy, Ela Klecun, Leslie Willcocks, & Terry Young

26. Gender research in Africa into ICTs for empowerment (GRACE)
   Ineke Buskens, Gertrudes Macueve, Ibou Sane, & Ann Webb
Social Dimensions of Information and Communication Technology Policy
Avgerou, C.; Smith, M.L.; van den Besselaar, P. (Eds.)
2008, VIII, 368 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-0-387-84821-1