
Contents

Part I Meaning and Processes of Global Talent Management

Global Talent Management: An Introduction and a Review	3
Akram Al Ariss
HR Directors' Understanding of 'Talent': A Cross-Cultural Study	15
Nicky Dries, Richard D. Cotton, Silvia Bagdadli, and Manoela Ziebell de Oliveira
Smart Global Talent Management: A Promising Hybrid	29
Charles M. Vance, Vlad Vaiman, Ana Cosic, Mursal Abedi, and Raquel Sena
Coaching of Key Talents in Multinational Companies	43
Raija Salomaa
Cultural Intelligence as a Key Construct for Global Talent Management	65
Joost Bückler
Inpatriation as a Key Component of Global Talent Management	79
Jean-Luc Cerdin and Kushal Sharma
The Global Talent Challenge of Self-initiated Expatriates	93
Jenny K. Rodriguez and Tracy Scurry
Opportunities and Challenges for Organisations and Highly Skilled Migrant Professionals	107
Bradley Saunders and Michael Nieto

Part II Global Talent Management across Geographical Contexts

Global Talent Management in Brazil: Jeitinho as a Managerial Talent . . .	123
Rosana Silveira Reis and Camilla Quental
Talent Management in China	141
Tony Fang

Global Talent Management in Japanese Multinational Companies: The Case of Nissan Motor Company	159
Masayuki Furusawa
Talent Management in ASEAN: A Study of Thailand	171
Opas Piansoongnern
Global Talent Management in Knowledge Intensive Firms in Europe and India	183
Vijay Pereira and Rita Fontinha
Talent Management in the MENA and GCC Regions: Challenges and Opportunities	197
Mhamed Biygautane and Khalid Othman Al Yahya
Talent Management in Poland: Challenges, Strategies and Opportunities	217
Sylwia Przytula
How to Attract and Retain Global Careerists: Evidence from Finland	237
Vesa Suutari, Olivier Wurtz, and Christelle Tornikoski
Global Talent Management in French Multinationals	251
Vincent Sponton and Akram Al Ariss
Global Talent Management and the American Female Executive	267
Laura Sankovich
Author Biographies	279
Index	287

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-05124-6>

Global Talent Management
Challenges, Strategies, and Opportunities
Al Ariss, A. (Ed.)
2014, VIII, 289 p. 18 illus., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-05124-6