

---

Contents

Part I Meaning and Processes of Global Talent Management

Global Talent Management: An Introduction and a Review . . . . .	3
Akram Al Ariss
HR Directors' Understanding of 'Talent': A Cross-Cultural Study . . . .	15
Nicky Dries, Richard D. Cotton, Silvia Bagdadli, and Manoela Ziebell de Oliveira
Smart Global Talent Management: A Promising Hybrid . . . . .	29
Charles M. Vance, Vlad Vaiman, Ana Cosic, Mursal Abedi, and Raquel Sena
Coaching of Key Talents in Multinational Companies . . . . .	43
Raija Salomaa
Cultural Intelligence as a Key Construct for Global Talent Management . . . . .	65
Joost Bückler
Inpatriation as a Key Component of Global Talent Management . . . . .	79
Jean-Luc Cerdin and Kushal Sharma
The Global Talent Challenge of Self-initiated Expatriates . . . . .	93
Jenny K. Rodriguez and Tracy Scurry
Opportunities and Challenges for Organisations and Highly Skilled Migrant Professionals . . . . .	107
Bradley Saunders and Michael Nieto
Part II Global Talent Management across Geographical Contexts
Global Talent Management in Brazil: Jeitinho as a Managerial Talent . . .	123
Rosana Silveira Reis and Camilla Quental
Talent Management in China . . . . .	141
Tony Fang

---

Global Talent Management in Japanese Multinational Companies: The Case of Nissan Motor Company . . . . .	159
Masayuki Furusawa
Talent Management in ASEAN: A Study of Thailand . . . . .	171
Opas Piansoongnern
Global Talent Management in Knowledge Intensive Firms in Europe and India . . . . .	183
Vijay Pereira and Rita Fontinha
Talent Management in the MENA and GCC Regions: Challenges and Opportunities . . . . .	197
Mhamed Biygautane and Khalid Othman Al Yahya
Talent Management in Poland: Challenges, Strategies and Opportunities . . . . .	217
Sylwia Przytula
How to Attract and Retain Global Careerists: Evidence from Finland . . . . .	237
Vesa Suutari, Olivier Wurtz, and Christelle Tornikoski
Global Talent Management in French Multinationals . . . . .	251
Vincent Sponton and Akram Al Ariss
Global Talent Management and the American Female Executive . . . . .	267
Laura Sankovich
Author Biographies . . . . .	279
Index . . . . .	287

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-05124-6>

Global Talent Management
Challenges, Strategies, and Opportunities
Al Ariss, A. (Ed.)
2014, VIII, 289 p. 18 illus., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-05124-6