CONTENTS

Part I  Definition of the Method

1  Film and Philosophy  3
   1.1  The Relationship Between Film and Philosophy  3
   1.2  Possible Approaches to Film Philosophy  6
   1.3  Film as Philosophy  12
   1.4  Towards a New Methodological Approach to FaP  22
   References  33

2  Phenomenology of Film  37
   2.1  Phenomenology as the Presupposition of Hermeneutics  37
   2.2  Embodiment, Intentionality and the Synthetic and Synaesthetic Process  40
   2.3  Film Experience as (Re)perception  42
   2.4  The Film World Through Phenomenology and
        Hermeneutics  56
   References  61

3  Film Worlds  65
   3.1  Films as Film Worlds  65
   3.2  The Film World as Experienceable Expression and Analysable Object  71

References  33
8  The King of Comedy: The Film World as Representation  201
  8.1  Phase 1: Naïve Understanding  202
  8.2  Phase 2: From Explanation to in-Depth Understanding  224
  8.3  Phase 3: Critical Understanding and Appropriation  246
  References  252

9  Pretty Woman: The Film World as Dream  257
  9.1  Phase 1: Naïve Understanding  258
  9.2  Phase 2: From Explanation to In-Depth Understanding  271
  9.3  Phase 3: Critical Understanding and Appropriation  292
  References  298

Conclusion  303

References  309

Index  311
Hermeneutics of the Film World
A Ricoeurian Method for Film Interpretation
Baracco, A.
2017, XXVII, 321 p. 57 illus., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-65399-0