Contents

1 The Great Depression and Mr. Keynes ........................................ 1
   - The Crash of 1929 ....................................................... 1
   - The Great Depression .................................................. 3
   - Depression Around the World ...................................... 6
   - FDR and the New Deal .................................................. 6
   - “We Must Act and Act Quickly” ..................................... 9
   - The New Deal Policies ............................................... 10
   - Irving Fisher’s Theory of Debt-Deflation ...................... 13
   - Money and the Great Depression .................................. 15
   - The Keynesian Vision of the Economy ......................... 15
   - John Hicks and the IS-LM Model ................................. 20
   - Keynes and FDR ......................................................... 23
   - The Fundamental Question ......................................... 23
   - Paternalistic Economic Policy ..................................... 25

2 The Post-War Economic Order ................................................. 29
   - The G.I. Bill ............................................................. 30
   - The Employment Act of 1946 ....................................... 31
   - The Council of Economic Advisers ............................... 33
   - The Birth of the Welfare State .................................... 34
   - The Bretton Woods Agreement .................................... 37
   - The International Monetary Fund (IMF) ....................... 38
   - The Bank for Reconstruction and Development (the World Bank) .................................................. 39
   - General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) ............ 40
   - The Marshall Plan .................................................... 41
   - The Point Four .......................................................... 43
   - The Brave New Post War World ................................... 44

3 Laying the Foundations of Keynesian Economics ......................... 45
   - Aggregate Supply and Aggregate Demand ...................... 46
   - National Income Accounting ...................................... 51
   - The Rise of Econometrics .......................................... 53
   - Simultaneity and Identification .................................. 55
   - Errors in Variables .................................................. 57
Adaptive Expectations Model ............................................. 58
Partial Adjustment Model ............................................... 61
Discounting and Present Value ........................................ 61
The Consumption Function ............................................. 62
Permanent Income Hypothesis ........................................ 65
Cross Section Estimate of Propensity to Consume .................. 68
Life Cycle Hypothesis .................................................... 69
The Investment Function ................................................ 71
Tobin’s q ................................................................. 74
Demand for Money ....................................................... 74
The Growth Model of Harrod and Domar ............................. 76
Solow’s Model ............................................................ 80
Solow Residual ............................................................ 82
The Golden Age of Macroeconomics ................................. 83

4 Keynesian Economics in Action .................................. 85
  Okun’s Law ............................................................. 89
  The Phillips Curve ..................................................... 91
  Stagflation ............................................................. 93
  The Natural Rate of Unemployment ................................. 95
  Rational Expectations ............................................... 96
  The Augmented Phillips Curve ...................................... 98
  Income Distribution .................................................. 100

5 Macroeconomics of an Open Economy .......................... 103
  Equilibrium in an Open Economy ................................... 108
  Fixed Exchange Rates with Capital and Foreign Exchange Controls ............................................... 109
  Monetary and Fiscal Policies Under Capital Mobility ............. 110
  Monetary Policy Under Fixed Exchange Rates ..................... 111
  Fiscal Policy Under Fixed Exchange Rates ........................ 113
  Monetary Policy Under Flexible Exchange Rates .................. 114
  Fiscal Policy Under Flexible Exchange Rates ..................... 115
  The Preeminence of Monetary Policy in the 21st Century ........... 116

6 The Collapse of Post-War International Economic Order ........ 117
  A New Economic Policy ............................................. 117
  The Aftermath ....................................................... 122
  The End of Bretton Woods ......................................... 123
  Milton Friedman and Flexible Exchange Rates ..................... 125
  The Oil Shocks ...................................................... 126
  OPEC ................................................................. 127
  The Sources of Oil Shocks ......................................... 128

7 The New Classical Revolt Against Activist Economic Policy .... 131
  Microfoundations ................................................... 132
  Coordination Mechanism ............................................ 133
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Contents</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Empirical Validity of the Keynesian Model</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Identification Problem</td>
<td>135</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The New Classical Criticism of Keynesian Policies</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Policy Ineffectiveness</td>
<td>136</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Lucas Critique</td>
<td>138</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time Series Analysis</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stationary Series and ARIMA Models</td>
<td>142</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wold’s Theorem</td>
<td>143</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Spurious Regression</td>
<td>146</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Causality</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VAR Modeling</td>
<td>147</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deterministic vs. Stochastic Trend</td>
<td>148</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cointegration and Error Correction</td>
<td>150</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8 Business Cycles: Evidence, Theory, and Policy</td>
<td>153</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Forecasting Recessions and Recovery</td>
<td>155</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Frisch’s Theory of Cycles</td>
<td>157</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Samuelson’s Model of Interaction Between Multiplier and Acceleration</td>
<td>159</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hicks’s Model of Two Limits</td>
<td>160</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Critique of Keynesian Models of Business Cycles</td>
<td>162</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Real Business Cycles Theory</td>
<td>162</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Simple Model of Real Business Cycles</td>
<td>162</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dynamic Stochastic General Equilibrium Models</td>
<td>164</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Calibration</td>
<td>166</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Bayesian Interpretation of Calibration</td>
<td>168</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Keynesian Models with Nominal and Real Rigidities</td>
<td>169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Convergence in Macroeconomics: DSGE Models with New Keynesian Features</td>
<td>170</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Business Cycles and Economic Policy</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Economic Model as a Means of Communication</td>
<td>173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>An Anti Empirical Trait Among Economists</td>
<td>174</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9 Money, Monetary Policy, and Monetarism</td>
<td>179</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Quantity Theory of Money</td>
<td>182</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Money Supply Process</td>
<td>184</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Federal Funds Market</td>
<td>187</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Open Market Operation and FOMC</td>
<td>188</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Targeting Money Supply vs. the Federal Funds Rate</td>
<td>189</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central Bank’s Credibility</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Central Bank’s Independence</td>
<td>190</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Inflation Targeting</td>
<td>192</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monetarism Program for Monetary Stability</td>
<td>193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Rules vs. Discretion</td>
<td>193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Time Inconsistency of Optimal Plans</td>
<td>194</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Term Structure of Interest Rates</td>
<td>195</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The Market Segmentation Hypothesis</td>
<td>197</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
The Expectations Hypothesis ........................................... 198
Liquidity Preference Hypothesis ....................................... 198

10 Government Budget and Fiscal Policy ............................. 201
   An Overview of Revenues and Expenditures of the US Government ............................................. 202
   Government Budget Constraint .................................... 203
   The Ricardian Equivalence ....................................... 204
   The Crowding Out Effect ....................................... 206
   Taxes and Incentives to Work and Save ......................... 207
   Flat Tax and Negative Income Tax ............................ 208
   Consumption Tax ........................................... 209
   Political Economy of Budgets and Reforms ..................... 210
   The Illusion of Populist Economic Programs ................... 211

11 The Reagan-Thatcher Revolution: The Age of Hayek and Schumpeter ..................................................... 213
   Hayek’s Vision .................................................. 214
   Schumpeter’s Theory of Business Cycles and Growth ....... 215
   Supply Side Economics ....................................... 216
   The Laffer Curve ........................................ 218
   A Change of Emphasis from Stabilization to Growth ........ 220
   The Ramsey Problem ....................................... 220
   The Overlapping Generations Model .......................... 221
   Endogenous Growth Theory ...................................... 223
   In Search of the Elements of Growth ........................... 225
   The Reagan Years ........................................... 225
   The Great Moderation ....................................... 228

12 Macroeconomics of Globalized Economies ....................... 231
   World Trade Organization (WTO) ............................. 234
   The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) ....... 235
   The European Union ........................................ 236
   Other Aspects of Globalization ................................ 236
   The International Monetary System ........................... 236
   Sovereign Debt ........................................... 238
   Sovereign Funds ........................................ 238
   International Economic Policy Coordination ................ 239

   Enough Blame to Go Around .................................... 241
   The American Dream of Homeownership ....................... 241
   Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac .................................. 243
   Subprime Mortgage ........................................ 244
   The Housing Crisis ........................................ 244
   The Function of Finance and Financial Institutions ......... 245
   Assets, Risk, and Diversification ............................. 246
Contents

Long, Short, and Neutral .............................................. 248
Hedging, Arbitrage, and Speculation ............................... 248
Financial Innovations .................................................. 249
Derivatives ............................................................... 250
Asset-Backed Securities, Collateralized Debt Obligations (CDOs), and Credit Default Swaps (CDSs) ....................... 251
Fraud in Financial Markets ............................................ 252
The Financial Crisis ..................................................... 253
The Stock Market ......................................................... 253
The Effects on the Real Economy ..................................... 254
Government Response to the Crisis ................................. 255
Back to the Future ....................................................... 259

References ............................................................... 261

Index ................................................................. 265
The Evolution of Macroeconomic Theory and Policy
Dadkhah, K.
2009, XIII, 269 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-540-77007-7