

Review Paper Submission to IJEST

IJEST welcomes the well-written Review Papers which suggest an applied solution or strategy to any type of environmental problems. To this end, manuscripts written by native English-speakers, or by those who have mastered the intricacies of the English language well enough that they can clearly articulate their work, will be favored by the journal. Obviously, such Review Papers should also contain 70-80 references to ensure that they can well communicate the findings while attaining enough citation.
