Aesthetic Plastic Surgery is a peer-reviewed journal devoted to aesthetic surgery of the entire body surface, including facial surgery, body surgery, skin care, and extremity surgery. Articles in Aesthetic Plastic Surgery discuss complications in surgical procedures and methods by which to treat or avoid them. In addition, papers cover the increasing role of aesthetic plastic surgery as the final step in reconstructive surgery for the repair of congenital, acquired, accidental and neoplastic defects.

Aesthetic Plastic Surgery provides a forum for original articles advancing the art of aesthetic plastic surgery. Many describe surgical craftsmanship; others deal with complications in surgical procedures and methods by which to treat or avoid them. Coverage includes “second thoughts” on established techniques, which might be abandoned, modified, or improved. Also included are case histories; improvements in surgical instruments, pharmaceuticals, and operating room equipment; and discussions of problems such as the role of psychosocial factors in the doctor-patient and the patient-public interrelationships.

Readership: Physicians and researchers specializing in all aspects of biomedical engineering research and application, including biomaterials, biomechanics, cellular and tissue engineering, imaging and more.
