

VOLUME 20, NUMBER 3

SEPTEMBER 2013
20(3) 113–172 (2013)
ISSN 1098-0067

Journal of Adult Development

 SpringerAvailable online
www.springer.com

4 issues/year

Electronic access

▶ link.springer.com

Subscription information

▶ springer.com/librarians

Journal of Adult Development

Editor: J. Demick

- ▶ Peer-reviewed research on biological, psychological and socio-cultural development in young, middle, and late adulthood
- ▶ Presents developments in basic and applied research, and quantitative and qualitative approaches to inquiry
- ▶ Covers acquisition of moral principles; development of the ego; relationships across the lifespan, and more
- ▶ Published in collaboration with the Society for Research in Adult Development

Journal of Adult Development, is a forum for publication of peer-reviewed, original theoretical and empirical articles on biological, psychological (cognitive, affective, valuative, behavioral), and sociocultural development in young, middle, and late adulthood. Coverage spans developments in both basic and applied research as well as quantitative and qualitative approaches to inquiry. The range of topics includes the acquisition of moral ideas and principles; the development and character of the ego; the changing nature of human relationships across the life span; relationship between the ethical atmosphere of higher education institutions and the development of adults within them; ways in which clinical interventions and adult developmental characteristics promote development in a variety of settings.

Journal of Adult Development is published in collaboration with the Society for Research in Adult Development.

Impact Factor: 0.762 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®

On the homepage of Journal of Adult Development at springer.com you can

- ▶ Sign up for our Table of Contents Alerts
- ▶ Get to know the complete Editorial Board
- ▶ Find submission information

