Journal of Quantitative Criminology

Editor-in-Chief: D. Weisburd
Executive Editor: B. Hasisi

▶ Applies quantitative techniques to concerns relevant to the criminological community
▶ Spans a range of disciplines including statistics, sociology, geography, political science, economics, and engineering
▶ Offers original research, brief methodological critiques, and papers that explore new directions for study

The Journal of Quantitative Criminology publishes papers that apply quantitative techniques to substantive, methodological, or evaluative concerns relevant to the criminological community. The contents span a broad range of disciplines, drawing on research advances in statistics, sociology, geography, political science, economics, and engineering. Features include original research, brief methodological critiques, and papers that explore new directions for studying a broad range of criminological topics.

Impact Factor: 3.456 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®

On the homepage of Journal of Quantitative Criminology at springer.com you can ▶ Sign up for our Table of Contents Alerts
▶ Get to know the complete Editorial Board
▶ Find submission information

Electronic access
▶ link.springer.com

Subscription information
▶ springer.com/librarians