Hereditary Cancer in Clinical Practice
Editor-in-Chief: J. Lubinski; R. Scott

- Official journal of the International Hereditary Cancer Center (IHCC)
- Published under the auspices of the Union for International Cancer Control (UICC)
- High author satisfaction

The official journal of the International Hereditary Cancer Center and published under the auspices of the International Union Against Cancer.

Hereditary Cancer in Clinical Practice publishes articles of interest for the cancer genetics community and serves as a discussion forum for the development of appropriate health care strategies.

Impact Factor: 1.590 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®

Giving authors in their area of expertise the opportunity to publish open access
- High visibility thanks to unrestricted online access
- Rigorous peer-review and high-quality author services
- Creative Commons licensed – authors retain copyright
- Citation tracking and inclusion in bibliographic databases
- Easy compliance with open access mandates