Journal of Biological Research-Thessaloniki
Editor-in-Chief: T.J. Abatzopoulos
Managing Editor: A.D. Baxevanis

- Exceptional peer review, including comprehensive editing process
- Official journal of the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki
- Broad scope, covering all biological research

Journal of Biological Research-Thessaloniki is a peer-reviewed, open access, international journal that publishes articles providing novel insights into the major fields of biology.

Topics covered in Journal of Biological Research-Thessaloniki include, but are not limited to: molecular biology, cytology, genetics, evolutionary biology, morphology, development & differentiation, taxonomy, bioinformatics, physiology, marine biology, behaviour, ecology and conservation.

Impact Factor: 1.200 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®

Giving authors in their area of expertise the opportunity to publish open access

- High visibility thanks to unrestricted online access
- Rigorous peer-review and high-quality author services
- Creative Commons licensed – authors retain copyright
- Citation tracking and inclusion in bibliographic databases
- Easy compliance with open access mandates