Video Journal of Education and Pedagogy

Editor-in-Chief: M. Peters
Co-Editor: E.J. White

- The first video journal in the field of education
- Offers video articles, interviews with leading scholars and easy-to-understand demonstrations
- Spans topics such as teacher education and classroom observation of children and educators

The first video journal in the field of education, this publication offers a database of video articles, interviews with leading scholars, and easy-to-understand demonstrations. Spans such topics as teacher education, classroom teacher and child observation.

Giving authors in their area of expertise the opportunity to publish open access
- High visibility thanks to unrestricted online access
- Rigorous peer-review and high-quality author services
- Creative Commons licensed – authors retain copyright
- Citation tracking and inclusion in bibliographic databases
- Easy compliance with open access mandates