Research and Practice in Technology Enhanced Learning
Editor-in-Chief: S.C. Kong

► Provides a catalyst for dialogue among researchers and practitioners worldwide in the fields of learning and cognition, education, and technology

► Aims to improve practice and achieve real-world impact in technology enhanced learning

► Seeks to improve understanding of designing for learning, in ways that translate successfully into practice

► Affiliated with the Asia-Pacific Society for Computers in Education

This journal publishes research on all aspects of the use of technology to enhance learning. The coverage includes technology from design to construction to implementation and evaluation, and learning across a wide range of formal and informal settings.

Giving authors in their area of expertise the opportunity to publish open access

► High visibility thanks to unrestricted online access
► Rigorous peer-review and high-quality author services
► Creative Commons licensed – authors retain copyright
► Citation tracking and inclusion in bibliographic databases
► Easy compliance with open access mandates