Journal of the Operational Research Society
Editor: J. Crook; T. Archibald

- The flagship journal of the OR Society
- The world’s longest-established operational research journal, published for more than 65 years
- Covers the theory, practice, history and methodology of operations research as well as practical case studies

The Journal of the Operational Research Society (JORS) is an established information source for practitioners, researchers, consumers, teachers and students of operational research.

The journal seeks submissions which illustrate:

- Real applications of OR: forecasting, inventory, investment, location, logistics, maintenance, marketing, packing, purchasing, production, project management, reliability and scheduling

- A wide variety of environments: community OR, education, energy, finance, government, health services, manufacturing industries, mining, sports, and transportation

- Technical approaches: decision support systems, expert systems, heuristics, networks, mathematical programming, multicriteria decision methods, problems structuring methods, queues, and Simulation

Impact Factor: 1.077 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®

On the homepage of Journal of the Operational Research Society at springer.com you can

- Sign up for our Table of Contents Alerts
- Get to know the complete Editorial Board
- Find submission information