URBAN DESIGN International
Editor: M. Arefi; N. Nasser

► An essential forum for the exchange of information and debate concerning issues of urban design and management
► An authoritative resource for urban designers, architects, planners, landscape architects, developers and all those involved in architectural and planning education and practice

URAL DESIGN International (UDI) is the first truly international network for all of those involved in the multi-disciplinary tasks of urban design and management.

In providing a direct forum for the exchange of information and a vehicle for the debate which constantly redefines the scope of urban design, the journal places a primary emphasis on bringing together practice and research. It addresses current issues and aims to make a range of materials accessible to all: from in-depth papers and reviews of projects, to book reviews, comments on previous contributions and a diary of international events. Some issues are themed by topic or geographic region.

Topics covered include:
- urban design
- urban development and management
- urban ecology
- transportation and highway design
- heritage and local identity
- diverse communities of interest

Impact Factor: 0.405 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®
