Personal and Ubiquitous Computing
Editor-in-Chief: P. Thomas

► Provides a global perspective on new developments in handheld and mobile information appliances.
► Unites technical accounts with studies of the social, cultural and organizational impacts of new personal technologies.
► Contains studies of END-user interface issues in the design and use of personal technologies as well as provides accounts of enabling technologies.
► Features industrial and academic research contributions from a wide range of disciplines.

Personal and Ubiquitous Computing publishes peer-reviewed multidisciplinary research on personal and ubiquitous technologies and services. Personal and Ubiquitous Computing is an essential resource for researchers and educators who wish to understand the implications of ubiquitous computing.

Impact Factor: 2.395 (2016), Journal Citation Reports®

On the homepage of Personal and Ubiquitous Computing at springer.com you can

► Sign up for our Table of Contents Alerts
► Get to know the complete Editorial Board
► Find submission information