Instructions for preparing manuscripts on a PC

Form of manuscript:

Papers must be in English and presented in the following order:

- Title of the paper
- Initial(s) and surname of each author, the name of the author to whom communications should be addressed being underlined
- Name and place of the institution or hospital where the work was done
- Abstract (10-15 lines of typescript)
- Text of paper
- References
- Captions of figures and illustrations
- Tables (Arabic numerals), prepared on separate pages

Illustrations

The minimum resolution for scanned line figures is 800 dpi, for fine details (small lettering or hairlines) at least 1000 dpi. For scanned photos, 300 dpi is enough.

Saving Illustration Data

- Save the illustrations individually, in the same size as they should appear in print. Check that all details, including any lettering, are clearly visible, and enclose a printout for control purposes.
- Suitable data formats are TIFF 5.0 RGB, TIFF 6.0 CMYK, and EPS (remember to include any fonts used). Data for color illustrations should be compiled, if possible, in CMYK mode.
- You may compress large data files, if necessary, in zip or tar format. Copy the compression program, as well, in case we have difficulty in decompressing them.
- Label the disk(s) with your name and the title of the work, and indicate the operating system and program used (with version number).

Print Masters

If you do not compile your illustrations on a PC, please send us good-contrast prints or transparencies (black and white), or the original drawings for line figures.

Laser printouts of graphics produced with Excel, PowerPoint, or Harvard Graphics are suitable for reproduction.

References

References may be cited in the text in the following way:

- Author name/s and year of publication in parentheses:
One author: (Miller 1991; Smith 2001)
Two authors: (Miller and Smith 1992)
Three or more authors: (Miller et al. 1994)

The reference list should be ordered alphabetically. In an alphabetical list, the following order is used for multiple works by an author:

- First, all works by the author alone, ordered by year of publication
- Next, all works by the author with a coauthor, alphabetically by coauthor
- Finally, all works by the author with several coauthors, ordered chronologically by year of publication

Examples:

- Monographs:
Snider T, Grand L (1982) Air pollution by nitrogen oxides. Elsevier, Amsterdam
- Anthologies and proceedings:
Noller C, Smith VR (1987) Ultraviolet selection pressure on earliest organisms. In: Kingston H, Fulling CP (eds) Natural environment background analysis. Oxford University Press, Oxford, pp 211–219
- Journals:
Peters S, Jaffe HG (1991) Lactose synthesis and the pentose cycle. J Biol Chem 98:15–33

Use the following abbreviations:

edn (edition)
p/pp (page/s)
ed/s (editor/s) vol (volume)

Please do not set commas between names and initials, or periods after initials or abbreviations.

Use of material from other publications

If you copy text passages, illustrations, or tables from other works, you must in each case obtain permission from the copyright holder (usually the original publisher). To do so, use the enclosed release form (copy it as often as required). Enclose a copy of the signed release form with the manuscript.

The source of a copied text passage, figure, or table must be acknowledged at the end of the passage, in the legend, or in the heading, at least by means of a reference to the original publication.

Please send your manuscript 4 weeks before the workshop at the latest (one paper version and an electronic version on diskette or CD or as e-mail attachment) to:

Wilma McHugh
Springer-Verlag
Tiergartenstr. 17
69118 Heidelberg
e-mail: Wilma.McHugh@springer-sbm.com

If there are any further questions with preparing the manuscript, please contact the above address.

We thank you for your cooperation and look forward to receiving your contribution.
