CONTENTS

Notes on the Contributors ix

Acknowledgements xi

Introduction 1
Heather Dyke

Part I. At the Time/Ethics Intersection

What Moral Realism Can Learn From The Philosophy Of Time 11
Heather Dyke

Prudence, Identity and Value 27
Ramon Das

Part II. The Ethical Significance of Temporal Location

Moral Realism and Infinite Spacetime Imply Moral Nihilism 43
Quentin Smith

Time and Punishment 55
Michael J. Zimmerman

Intergenerational Responsibilities and the Interests of the Dead 71
Janna Thompson

Time and Well-Being 85
Andrew Moore

Ethics and Temporality: When are Moral Propositions True? 99
Peter Caws

The Moral Relevance of Past Preferences 115
Krister Bykvist

Saying and Showing the Good 137
Panayot Butchvarov
Part III. Persons as Temporal and Ethical Beings

Personal Identity, Responsibility and Time
L. Nathan Oaklander
161

Empathy, Immediacy and Morality
M. Slote
179

Persons in Time: Metaphysics and Ethics
T. D. J. Chappell
189

The Non-Identity Problem
T. Mulgan
209

Diachronic Obligation
W. Grey
219

Index
237
Time and Ethics
Essays at the Intersection
Dyke, H.L. (Ed.)
2003, XI, 241 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-1-4020-1312-6