Contents

Part I  Conceptual and Methodological Developments

1. Understanding Health Disparities: The Promise of the Stress Process Model ................................................................. 3
   R. Jay Turner

2. Compensatory Coping with Stressors ................................................................. 23
   Peggy A. Thoits

3. Neighborhood as a Social Context of the Stress Process ....................... 35
   Carol S. Aneshensel

4. Suppression Effects in Social Stress Research and Their Implications for the Stress Process Model ....................... 53
   Scott Schieman

Part II  Stress Processes in Social Roles and Contexts: Family and Work

5. Family Structure and Women's Lives: A Life Course Perspective ............................... 71
   William R. Avison

6. The Stress Process Model: Some Family-Level Considerations ............ 93
   Melissa A. Milkie

7. Linking Early Family Adversity to Young Adult Mental Disorders ............................... 109
   K.A.S. Wickrama, Rand D. Conger, Florensia F. Surjadi, and Frederick O. Lorenz

8. Work, Family, and Their Intersection ................................................................. 131
   Elizabeth G. Menaghan
Part III Psychosocial Concepts and Processes

9 Sense of Mattering in Late Life ................................................................. 149
   Elena M. Fazio

10 It’s Tough to Cope in Rural Mali: Financial Coping Style, Mastery, Self Confidence, and Anxiety in a Bad and Worsening Socioeconomic Environment ........................................... 177
   Carmi Schooler, Leslie J. Caplan, Amir Goren, Pakuy Pierre Mounkoro, and Chiaka Diakité

11 Stress Valuation and the Experience of Parenting
   Stress in Late Life ................................................................................... 189
   Alex Bierman

12 Stress Process Applications in Child Victimization Research ............ 207
   Heather A. Turner

Part IV The Evolution of the Stress Process Paradigm

13 The Stress Process as a Successful Paradigm ....................................... 231
   Blair Wheaton

A Few Afterthoughts .................................................................................. 253

Index ........................................................................................................... 255
Advances in the Conceptualization of the Stress Process
Essays in Honor of Leonard I. Pearlin
Avison, W.R.; Aneshensel, C.S.; Schieman, S.; Wheaton, B. (Eds.)
2010, XIV, 261 p., Hardcover