Lateral Sclerosis ..................................................................................... 717
Luciano Bruno de Carvalho-Silva

40 Mid-Upper Arm Anthropometric Measurements
as a Mortality Predictor for Community-Dwelling Dependent Elderly ................................................................................. 727
Masafumi Kuzuya and Hiromi Enoki

41 The Arm Span to Height Relationship and Its Health Implications ................................................................. 741
Maw Pin Tan and Sushil K. Bansal
42 Proximal Femoral Anthropometry
by Computed Tomography ................................................................. 755
Thomas F. Lang

43 Leg Length and Anthropometric Applications:
Effects on Health and Disease .......................................................... 769
Maria Inês Varela-Silva and Barry Bogin

44 Measures and Application of Lower Leg Length:
Fracture Risk Assessment ............................................................... 785
