Contents

Part I  Introduction: Power of the Oceans Across Regions

1  Researching the Indian Ocean Region
   1.1 Indian Ocean Region .......................... 3
   1.2 Maritime Regime Building for Regional Cooperation .... 4
   1.3 Importance of the Indian Ocean ................. 4
   1.4 Regional Cooperation for Ocean Governance .......... 5
   1.5 Centrality of the Book .......................... 6
   1.6 Factors and Approach to Research .................. 7
   1.7 Contribution of the Book to IR and IO Studies ......... 9
   1.8 Structure of Book .................................. 10
   1.9 A Note on Sources and Methods ..................... 11
      1.9.1 Case Study on IOGOOS ......................... 12
      1.9.2 Case Study on IOMOU for PSC .................. 12
   Notes .................................................................. 13

Part II  Ocean Governance, Regional Cooperation and Regime Theory

2  The New Regime for Ocean Governance
   2.1 Emergence of the New Legal Regime for the Oceans ...... 17
   2.2 Regime Change in the Oceans .......................... 18
   2.3 Importance of Oceans ............................... 19
   2.4 Changing Maritime Dimensions ....................... 22
   2.5 Regime for Ocean Governance “History in the Making” .... 25
   2.6 Defining Ocean Governance ........................... 27
   2.7 Pressures of Ocean Governance ....................... 28
   2.8 Indicators of Ocean Governance ..................... 29
   2.9 Objectives and Principles of Ocean Governance ...... 30
   2.10 Initiatives for Ocean Governance .................... 32
   2.11 Strategy for Ocean Governance ..................... 35
   2.12 Regulation and Control at Sea ....................... 38
   2.13 Attributes of the Power to Govern the Sea .......... 40
3 Indian Ocean Region

3.1 Indian Ocean Region as a Concept

3.2 Regions and Regional Orders

3.3 New Concept of Security

3.4 Regional Security Complex Theory (RSCT)

3.5 Indian Ocean RSCs

3.6 Regions and the Indian Ocean

3.7 Understanding the Geostrategic Maritime Realm

3.8 Indian Ocean Regional Initiatives

3.9 Indian Ocean Regionalism

3.10 Indian Ocean Region Defined

3.11 Conclusion

Notes

4 Regime Theory and Application of Structuration Theory

4.1 Regime Effectiveness an Agenda for Research

4.2 Structurational Approach to Regimes

4.3 Regimes Do Matter

4.4 Conceptual Clarification of Regimes

4.5 Regime Definitions

4.6 Attributes and Classification of Regimes

4.7 Norm for Ocean Governance and Maritime Regimes

4.8 Driving Social Forces of Regime Formation

4.9 Process of Regime Formation

4.10 Actor–Structure Interplay

4.11 Actors and Leadership

4.12 Structure in Regime Analysis

4.13 Elements of Structuration Theory

4.14 Application of Structuration Theory to Regime Theory

4.15 Conclusion

Notes

5 Methodological Considerations for Case Study Analysis

5.1 Integrating the Literature on Ocean Governance, Regions and Regimes

5.2 Maritime Regime Analysis in the Indian Ocean Region

5.3 Meaning of Regime Effectiveness

5.4 Objects of Assessment

5.5 Importance of Time and Space

5.6 Level of Collaboration as a Measure of Effectiveness

5.7 Behavioural Change and Institutional Effectiveness
Part III Indian Ocean Rim Power to Govern the Sea

6 Regime for Marine Scientific Research in the Indian Ocean Region

6.1 Importance of Marine Scientific Research .......................... 129
6.2 Maritime Zones and Marine Scientific Research  .................. 130
6.3 International Legal Regime for Marine Scientific Research  .... 132
   6.3.1 Marine Scientific Research and Economic Interests .......... 133
   6.3.2 Marine Scientific Research and Military Interests .......... 134
6.4 International Cooperation in Marine Scientific Research ....... 135
6.5 Process of Regime Formation: Global Ocean Observing System (GOOS) ........................................... 136
6.6 Indian Ocean Global Ocean Observing System (IOGOOS) Regional Alliance ............................................. 139
6.7 Actor Behaviour and Leadership ...................................... 140
   6.7.1 Knowledge-Based Actors and Intellectual Leadership ........ 140
   6.7.2 Interest-Based Actors and Entrepreneurial Leadership .... 141
   6.7.3 Power-Based Actors and Structural Leadership .......... 141
6.8 Structure Over Time ................................................... 142
   6.8.1 Signification—Communication and Level of Concern .......... 142
   6.8.2 Legitimisation—Contractual Environment ...................... 143
   6.8.3 Domination—National Capacity ................................ 144
6.9 Broader Consequences Across Space ................................ 145
   6.9.1 State Learning at the Unit Level .............................. 145
   6.9.2 Regional Cooperation at the Subsystem Level ............... 146
   6.9.3 International Cooperation at the System Level .............. 148
6.10 Stages of Regime Formation ......................................... 152
   6.10.1 Agenda Formation .............................................. 152
   6.10.2 Institutional Choice ........................................... 153
   6.10.3 Operationalisation ............................................. 153
6.11 IOGOOS Projects ..................................................... 155
   6.11.1 Indian Ocean Panel (IOP) and the Indian Ocean Observing System (IndOOS) ........................................... 155
   6.11.2 Coastal Module of IOGOOS .................................... 158
   6.11.3 Data and Information Management ............................ 160
6.12 Analysis of Regime Effectiveness .................................... 164
6.12.1 Stages of Regime Formation
6.12.2 Actor Behaviour and Leadership
6.12.3 Structure Over Time
6.12.4 Broader Consequences Across Space
6.12.5 Level of Collaboration
6.12.6 Effectiveness of the Regime for Marine Scientific Research

6.13 Conclusion
Notes

7 Intra-Indian Ocean Trade
7.1 Indian Ocean Commerce
7.2 Intra-Indian Ocean Trade Overview
7.3 Country-Specific Intra-Indian Ocean Trade Performance
7.4 IOR Regional Exports
7.5 Top-Performing IOR Countries
7.6 Conclusion
Notes

8 Shipping and Port State Control in the Indian Ocean
8.1 Shipping a Globalised Industry
8.2 International Maritime Organisation (IMO) Framework
8.3 World Shipping
8.4 IOR Shipping Fleet
8.5 Indian Ocean Port State Control
8.6 Actor Behaviour and Leadership
8.7 Structure Over Time
8.8 Broader Consequences Across Space
8.8.1 State Learning at the Unit Level
Regional Cooperation/Subsystem level (RCSSL) ........................................ 305
International Cooperation/System Level (ICSL) ........................................ 307
Stages of Regime Formation (STAREGFOR) ............................................. 310
Agenda Formation (AGFOR) ........................................................................ 310
Institutional Choice (INCHO) ........................................................................ 318
Operationalisation (OPSTA) .......................................................................... 322
Process of Regime Formation (PROREGFOR) ............................................. 330
Imposition (IMPOS) ...................................................................................... 331
Negotiation (NEGOT) ................................................................................... 333
Self-Generation (SEFG) ................................................................................ 333

Appendix C: Intra-Indian Ocean Trade (in USD Millions) 2001 to 2007 .......... 335
Appendix D: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2001 .............................................................. 343
Appendix E: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2002 .............................................................. 345
Appendix F: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2003 .............................................................. 347
Appendix G: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2004 .............................................................. 349
Appendix H: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2005 .............................................................. 351
Appendix I: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2006 .............................................................. 353
Appendix J: Intra-Indian Ocean Exports by Value (in USD Millions) by Country 2007 .............................................................. 355
Appendix K: Indian Ocean Shipping Fleets ...................................................... 357
Appendix L: Indian Ocean Countries Port State Control Inspection Data 2001 to 2006 .............................................................. 361
Appendix M: Indian Ocean Port State Control Inspection Data for Classification Societies .............................................................. 367
Bibliography .................................................................................................. 369
Index .......................................................................................................... 395
Indian Ocean Region
Maritime Regimes for Regional Cooperation
Gupta, M.
2010, XXIV, 400 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-1-4419-5988-1