Contents

Preface .............................................................................................................. ix

Autobiographical Notes .................................................................................. xi

Contributors .................................................................................................... xxiii

Part I—Comparative Analysis

1 Another View of Psychotherapy? ............................................................ 3
   Herbert J. Schlesinger
   Reply to Herbert Schlesinger, David Shapiro ........................................ 16
   Response to David Shapiro, Herbert J. Schlesinger ......................... 20

2 Personality in Context: Reflections on the Contributions of David Shapiro ............................................................... 23
   Paul L. Wachtel
   Reply to Paul Wachtel, David Shapiro ............................................... 40
   Convergences: Response to David Shapiro’s Reply, Paul L. Wachtel .... 43

3 A New Developmental Foundation for David Shapiro’s Work on Autonomy and Character ......................................................... 45
   E. Virginia Demos
   Reply to Virginia Demos, David Shapiro .......................................... 59
   Continuing the Discussion, E. Virginia Demos ................................. 62

Part II—Personality, Personality Disorders and Psychosis

4 Two Configurations of Personality Development and Psychopathology: Etiologic and Therapeutic Implications ....................... 69
   Sidney J. Blatt
   Reply to Sidney Blatt, David Shapiro .............................................. 88
   Interpersonal Relatedness and Self-definition: Fundamental Developmental Psychological Dimensions, Sidney J. Blatt ........ 92
5 Autonomy and Schizophrenia: Reflections on an Ideal
Louis A. Sass
   Reply to Louis Sass, David Shapiro ........................................ 127
   Rejoinder to David Shapiro, Louis A. Sass .......................... 130

Part III—The Psychology of Defense

6 Reconceptualizing Defense, Unconscious Processes,
   and Self-Knowledge: David Shapiro’s Contribution
   Morris N. Eagle
   Reply to Morris Eagle, David Shapiro ............................... 155
   Reply to David Shapiro, Morris N. Eagle .......................... 161

7 Defensive Styles of Thinking to Prevent Dreaded
   States of Mind
   Mardi J. Horowitz
   Reply to Mardi Horowitz, David Shapiro ............................ 179

Part IV—Self-Deception

8 Self-Deceptive Speech: A Psycholinguistic View
   Michael F. Schober and Peter J. Glick
   Reply to Michael Schober and Peter Glick, David Shapiro .... 196
   Reply to David Shapiro, Michael F. Schober and Peter J. Glick 199

9 Neurotic Self-Deception as a Reproductive Strategy
   Lawrence Josephs
   Reply to Lawrence Josephs, David Shapiro ......................... 216
   Spandrel or Adaptive Design?, Lawrence Josephs ............... 218

Part V—Extensions and Empirical Applications

10 David Shapiro’s Characterology and Complex
   Systems Theory
   Craig Piers
   Reply to Craig Piers, David Shapiro .................................. 243
   Rejoinder to David Shapiro, Craig Piers .......................... 245

11 I Don’t Want to Want to: Intentionality
   and Craving in Addiction
   Mindy Greenstein
   Reply to Mindy Greenstein, David Shapiro ....................... 259
12 Activity, Passivity, and the Subjective Experience of Hypomania ................................................................. 261
   Andreas Evdokas and Ali Khadivi
   Reply to Andreas Evdokas and Ali Khadivi, David Shapiro .......... 273

Appendix A – On Two Fundamental Categories of Psychopathology .... 275
   David Shapiro, Graduate Faculty, New School for Social Research

Appendix B – Publications by David Shapiro .............................................. 281

Index ................................................................................................................. 283
Personality and Psychopathology
Critical Dialogues with David Shapiro
Piers, C. (Ed.)
2011, XXVI, 292 p., Hardcover