Contents

1 Peace Psychology in the Balkans: In Times Past, Present, and Future .......................................................... 1
Olivera Simić, Zala Volčič, and Catherine R. Philpot

Part I Explaining the Past

2 Ethnic Conflict and Reconciliation in Post-Communist Romania .......................................................... 17
Vasile Cernat

3 Theories of Ethnocentrism and Their Implications for Peacebuilding ........................................ 35
Boris Bizumić

4 Transforming Violent Masculinities in Serbia and Beyond ................................................ 57
Ivana Milojević

5 Making or Breaking the Peace: The Role of Schools in Inter-Ethnic Peace Making ...................... 75
W. Duffie VanBalkom and Mirjana Beara

Part II Examining the Present

6 Journalistic Views on Post-Violent Peacebuilding in Bosnia and Herzegovina ........................................ 91
Karmen Erjavec, Zala Volčič, Melita Poler Kovačić, and Igor Vobič

7 War Through Other Means: Examining the Role of Symbols in Bosnia and Herzegovina .............. 109
Iva Pauker
8 Imagine Being Alone: Making Sense of Life in Contemporary Bosnia and Herzegovina by Remembering the Past .......................... 129 Sandina Begić

9 Internalizing and Externalizing Symptoms in a Sample of Bosnian Young Adults: Ten Years After the War ........................................................ 143 Namik Kirlić and Adela Langrock

10 Family in Exile: Examining the Risk and Resilience of Refugees in Serbia ................................................................. 157 Tijana Mirović

Part III Envisioning the Future

11 Parallel Worlds of Divided Community: Time Does Not Make Much Difference ........................................ 177 Dinka Čorkalo Biruški and Dean Ajduković

12 OpenOption: Roma, Discrimination, and Peace Building in Macedonian Šuto Orizari .................................................. 199 Despina Angelovska

13 Overcoming Ethnic Hatred: Peacebuilding and Violent Conflict Prevention in Divided Societies .............................. 215 Scott Nicholas Romaniuk

14 Coming to Terms with the Past Marked by Collective Crimes: Collective Moral Responsibility and Reconciliation ............................................. 235 Sabina Čehajić-Clancy

Index .................................................................................................................. 245
Peace Psychology in the Balkans
Dealing with a Violent Past while Building Peace
Simić, Volcic, Z.; Philpot, C.R. (Eds.)
2012, XVI, 248 p., Hardcover