

Contents

1	Igor Shafarevich, a Lightning Rod for Controversy	1
	What Has Been Said About Shafarevich?	1
	Why Is It Important to Get Shafarevich Right?	8
	The Guidelines of the Research of History of Ideas	10
	Respecting the Context and Respecting the Text	11
	Motive and Intention and Why They Matter	13
	Influence: No-one Writes in a Vacuum or Just Recycles Others’ Old Ideas	14
	Ideas and Their Limits	15
	Sources and Literature and How to Approach Them	15
	Articles, Interviews, Lectures, Films	15
	Professors vs. Professors vs. Literary Notables	17
	The Structure of This Work	18
2	Shafarevich’s Early Years in the Young Soviet State	21
	“Absolutely No Room for Anything Transcendental, Higher”	21
	The Living Well of Literary Treasures	26
	Mathematics and Music – Two Islands of Beauty in the Soviet Union	29
	The Joyful Discovery of the Mathematicians’ International
	Brotherhood	35
	Reminiscences About Great and Controversial Mathematicians	38
3	Shafarevich, the Human Rights Activist	45
	Paradoxes of “the Thaw”	45
	Dissidents United by the Defence of Rights	48
	Shafarevich in the Moscow Dissidents’ Human Rights Committee	50
	Religion, a Neglected Issue	53
	The Committee Withers Away	57
	Shafarevich’s Companionships with Sakharov and Solzhenitsyn	59
	The Price of Dissent: Difficulties for Shafarevich	62

4	The First Disputes About the Soviet – and Russian – Future	67
	Sakharov’s and Amalrik’s Early Contributions	67
	The Controversy over Nationalism, Soviet Style	69
	The Official Verdict on Russia, Religion, and Historical Memory	75
	The New Coming of the Landmarks Debate – Metanoia	78
	Gorskii’s Declaration of War on Russian History	82
5	Shafarevich’s and Solzhenitsyn’s Joint Project, From Under the Rubble	89
	Further on the Road Guided by the Landmarks	89
	Responsibility, Repentance and Self-limitation	92
	The Soviet Intelligentsia’s Moral State Leaves Much to Be Desired ...	96
	Socialism as Fear and Rejection of Life, Creation, and Freedom	98
	The Sore and Sensitive Question of Nationalities	105
	Historical Determinism and the Alternative of Free Will	109
	The Primary Role of Spiritual Values	111
	Nationalism and Universalism as Kindred Rationalist Fallacies	113
	The Press Conferences and the Emigration Question	115
	What Was the Third Wave of Emigration?	117
	Shafarevich’s and Solzhenitsyn’s Arguments... ..	122
	...and the Controversy	126
	Emigration and Great Power Politics	130
	“Russia, the Bitch of a Mother”	135
	From Under the Rubble Through the Eyes of Its Critics	138
	“Stirring Voices from Post-Stalin Soviet Russia”	138
	“They Are Mortally, Incurably Hurt by Solzhenitsyn”	140
	Discomfort with Religious Views of The Rubble	143
	Shafarevich’s Socialism and Zinovev’s Ism	145
6	Shafarevich’s Addresses Until the Early 1980s	153
	Spiritual Freedom and Creativity – Shafarevich’s Central Concerns	153
	Shostakovich and the Spiritual Resistance in the Soviet Union	156
	The Patriotic Samizdat Journal Veche , the Bone of
	Contention to Come	162
	Shafarevich’s Exchange with Father Aleksandr Men	167
	Father Dimitrii Dudko and the Bankruptcy of the Political Sphere	174
	Back to Basic Spiritual Values	177
	Reply to the Critics of The Rubble	182
	Solzhenitsyn on the Western Front	185
	Solzhenitsyn’s Heroic Reputation Starts to Crumble	185
	“Solzhenitsyn Has Constructed Himself an Ideal of Holy Russia” ...	187
	Quarrels with Recent Emigrants and Western Specialists Go On	191
	The KGB’s Extraordinary Efforts in Blackening
	Solzhenitsyn’s Reputation	197
	“Shafarevich, the Friend of the Notorious Solzhenitsyn”	199
	Shafarevich’s Positions During the Soviet Years: A Summary	201

7	The First Statements During Glasnost	209
	Commenting on “the Nina Andreeva Letter”	209
	Against Selective Interpretations of the Past	211
	“Worldwide Demand for a ‘Human God’”	213
	On Solzhenitsyn and Tarkovskii, Culture and Politics	216
	Solzhenitsyn’s Rehabilitation – a Yardstick for Glasnost and Perestroika	216
	The Significance of Solzhenitsyn According to Shafarevich	218
	Criticising Tarkovskii’s Rublev	222
	The Oktiabr Affair	223
	The Battle for the Ownership of the Soviet Periodicals	223
	Pushkin as the Litmus Test for Elementary Respect for Traditional Values	226
	Lenin, Stalin and Russia at the Root of All Misfortunes?	231
8	Russophobia	233
	The Samizdat That Hit the Headlines	233
	Western Standard Notions About Russia – and Shafarevich’s Objections	236
	On Democracy and Its Prerequisites	237
	Rejecting the Idea That Society Is Comparable to a Mechanism	239
	“ The Little Nation ” – an Outcome of the Complex Historical Processes of the Past 400 Years	240
	“ A Strong Jewish Element ”	241
	Difficulties of Attaining a Constructive Mode of Discussion	246
	The Century of Russian Crises, and the Nationalities Issue	247
	National Spiritual Traditions Protecting the Health of a Nation	249
	Ideological Buttresses of Russophobia	251
	Anti-Semitism!?	254
	A Provisory Verdict on Shafarevich: Not Guilty	257
	The First Investigation: “ The Chosen People ” in the Context of the Jewish Faith	261
	The Basis: Responsibility	261
	Not the Prerequisite of Ethnicity but of Ethics	264
	“ The Chosen People ” Conception as an Antidote to Monotheism’s “ Inevitable Imperialism ”	267
	“ The Chosen People ” – Further Implications and Interpretations	270
	Christianity and Judaism – Two Languages, the Same Basic Message	273
	Summarising the Findings: Nothing Dubious in Shafarevich’s Claims About Religion	275
	The Second Investigation: Jews in the History of Christendom	278
	Jews as “ Mercurian Service Nomads ” According to Slezkin	278
	The Perspective of Religion	279

The Perspective of Economics	281
The Case of the Russian Empire	283
Russophobia's Assessments in the Light of Recent Studies	287
The Third Investigation: Allegations About Russian History and Character	297
“Russian Messianism” and the Conception of Moscow as the Third Rome... ..	297
...and the Russian Slave Soul	304
Reactions to Russophobia	310
“A ‘Tract’ Penetrated by a Fanatical Conviction”	310
“A Crudest Distortion of Shafarevich’s Words Is Going on Now” ..	315
“His Style of Anti-Semitism Would Do Credit to a Rosenberg”	318
“Shame on You, Igor Rostislavovich! Your Fear for Jews Must Make You Tremble”	321
Some Thoughts About Judgement and Analysis	327
The Low Level of the Discussion Concerning Russophobia's Religious Argumentation	333
How Russophobia Turned the Mathematics Community Upside Down	339
Over 35 Years of Intertwined Fates – Solzhenitsyn, Shafarevich and the Jews	349
The Three-Thousand-Year-Old Enigma by Shafarevich	349
“Shafarevich, Solzhenitsyn’s Notorious Friend and Mouthpiece” ..	357
Two Hundred Years Together by Solzhenitsyn	360
9 The Rapid Political Changes of the Late 1980s and Early 1990s	367
On Reforms and the Nature of Transition	367
Painful Resemblance to the February Revolution	370
Democracy and Parliamentarism Need to Be Taken Seriously	372
Nationalities Issues: Requirement of Openness and Justice	375
The Shaky Status of the Sovereign Russian SFSR	377
Russia After the Failed Putsch	383
“Shock Therapy” – the Context of Shafarevich’s Moves to Come	389
How to Retain Even Elementary Social Stability?	392
Should There Be a Continuum with the Past?	396
Ambivalence Concerning the Opposition	401
It Is Vital to See Beyond the Red Flags	405
The National Salvation Front	409
Constitutional Crisis and Referendum	414
Shafarevich Analyses the Opposition’s Weaknesses	416
Bloodshed of 1993 and the Defeat of the Opposition	420
Concerns for the Ensuing Years	422

10 Critique of Contemporary Techno-Scientific Civilisation	429
The Crux of Shafarevich’s Thinking	429
Two Roads to One Precipice	430
Limitless Increase of Elements of Only One Type	436
How Techno-Scientific Civilisation Has Taken Shape	442
Applying the Logic of Mechanics to Human Communities and Nature	442
The Imperative of Efficiency	447
The Role of Religion	448
The Incompatibility of Mythical Wisdom and the Linear Conception of Time	452
Contemplations on Russia	457
Feedback. Is This Reasonable?	460
11 Some Conclusions	473
The Most Essential in Shafarevich’s Ideas	473
Human Free Will	473
Socialism	474
Nationalities Issues	475
Techno-Scientific Civilisation	476
Antidotes to Techno-Scientific Civilisation	477
Shafarevich’s Thinking in the Context of Ideological Traditions	479
Shafarevich’s Reception	482
Sources and Literature	487
Index of Personal Names	531

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-0348-0214-7>

The Vexing Case of Igor Shafarevich, a Russian Political Thinker

Berglund, K.

2012, XIV, 542 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-0348-0214-7

A product of Birkhäuser Basel