Contents

Bridges Between Virtue Epistemology and Philosophy of Science ............. 1
Abrol Fairweather

Part I Epistemic Virtue, Cognitive Science and Situationism

The Function of Perception ............................................................................ 13
Peter J. Graham

Metacognition and Intellectual Virtue .......................................................... 33
Christopher Lepock

Daring to Believe: Metacognition, Epistemic Agency and Reflective Knowledge................................................................. 49
Fernando Broncano

Success, Minimal Agency and Epistemic Virtue .......................................... 67
Carlos Montemayor

Towards a Eudaimonistic Virtue Epistemology ........................................... 83
Berit Brogaard

Expanding the Situationist Challenge to Reliabilism About Inference............................................................... 103
Mark Alfano

Inferential Abilities and Common Epistemic Goods ...................................... 123
Abrol Fairweather and Carlos Montemayor

Part II Epistemic Virtue and Formal Epistemology

Curiosity, Belief and Acquaintance ............................................................... 143
Ilhan Inan
Epistemic Values and Disinformation ........................................................... 159
Don Fallis

Defeasibility Without Inductivism .............................................................. 181
Juan Comesaña

Part III Virtues of Theories and Virtues of Theorists

Acting to Know: A Virtue of Experimentation ......................................... 195
Adam Morton

Is There a Place for Epistemic Virtues in Theory Choice?...................... 207
Milena Ivanova

Bridging a Fault Line: On Underdetermination and the Ampliative Adequacy of Competing Theories ........................................ 227
Guy Axtell

Epistemic Virtues and the Success of Science ........................................ 247
D. Tulodziecki

Experimental Virtue: Perceptual Responsiveness and the Praxis of Scientific Observation ................................................................. 269
Shannon Vallor

A Matter of Phronesis: Experiment and Virtue in Physics, A Case Study ................................................................. 291
Marilena Di Bucchianico

Part IV Understanding, Explanation and Epistemic Virtue

Knowledge and Understanding .............................................................. 315
Duncan Pritchard

Understanding as Knowledge of Causes ................................................. 329
Stephen R. Grimm

Knowledge, Understanding and Virtue .................................................. 347
Christoph Kelp
Virtue Epistemology Naturalized
Bridges Between Virtue Epistemology and Philosophy of Science
Fairweather, A. (Ed.)
2014, VI, 360 p. 6 illus., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-04671-6