Part I  The William James Lectures on Dream Consciousness

1  Introduction ................................................................. 3
   J. Allan Hobson

2  Lecture I: Psychology .................................................... 9
   J. Allan Hobson

3  Lecture II: Physiology .................................................. 29
   J. Allan Hobson

4  Lecture III: Philosophy .................................................. 51
   J. Allan Hobson

Part II  Commentaries

5  Do You Still Hold to an Activation Only Theory of the REM Sleep-Dreaming Correlation? ................................. 83
   John Antrobus

6  What Is the Most Promising Avenue to New Understanding of the Sleep-Learning Process? ................................. 87
   Mercedes Atienza and José L. Cantero

7  Are You Convinced That Dreaming Is A Conscious State? ....... 91
   Susan Blackmore

8  Your PET Studies Demonstrate Major Differences Between REM Sleep and Waking. How Do You Conceive of These Differences in Relation to Theories of Waking and Dreaming Consciousness? 95
   Allen R. Braun
9 How Does Your Formulation of Lesion-Induced States of Diminished Consciousness Fit with AIM? Do You Suppose That Brain Stem Damage Affects Activation (A) and Modulation (M)?
Vanessa Charland-Verville and Steven Laureys

10 Does Your “Feeling of What Happens” Definition of Consciousness Extend to Dreaming? If So, How Do You Conceptualize Internally Generated FWHs?
Antonio Damasio

11 What Is Dreaming for, If Anything?
Daniel C. Dennett

12 Your Interest in Sleep and Memory Posits a Semantic Learning Function to NREM Sleep. What Are Your Views of Associative Memory Enhancement by REM?
Susanne Diekelmann and Jan Born

13 Your Imaging Group Has Coined the Term ‘Dream Imaging.’ Please Summarize the Concept in Relation to Dream Theory.
Martin Dresler, Victor Spoormaker, Renate Wehrle, and Michael Czisch

14 Do You Think That Scientific Psychology Has a Place for the Study of Dreaming? In Other Words, Do You Accept Introspection as Scientifically Useful?
Michael W. Eysenck

15 What Does Your Theory of Hallucinosis Make of Dream Experience? Do Both Reveal the Operation of Internal Image Generator Mechanisms in the Brain?
Dominic H. Ffytche

16 Please Comment on the Predictive Tenet of the Protoconsciousness Hypothesis. Is This Idea Consistent with the Helmholtzian Model of Free Energy That You Are Developing?
Karl Friston

17 How Does the Protoconsciousness Concept of Dreaming Fit with Your Model of the Animal Mind? Do Dogs, Parrots, and Monkeys “Think” Without Words?
Ludwig Huber

18 How Does the New Protoconsciousness Hypothesis Fit with Your Own Concept of the Cognitive Unconscious?
John F. Kihlstrom

19 Does Morrison’s PGO Wave/Startle Hypothesis Help Us Explain Such Robust Dream Features as Surprise and Scene Shift?
Don Kuiken

30 The Idea, Championed by Your Group, That Dreaming Functions as Threat Avoidance Would Seem to Be Quite Compatible with Protoconsciousness Theory. But Is It Really Dreaming (as Against REM) That Performs That Function? In Other Words, Are You a Dualist or a Neutral Monist? .................................................. 191
Antti Revonsuo

31 What Are the Clinical Implications of Protoconsciousness Theory for the Conceptualization of Those Psychiatric Disorders Commonly Referred to as Mental Illnesses? ............................. 195
Silvio Scarone and Armando D’Agostino

Michael Schredl

33 How Does the Finding of a Correlation Between the Three Conscious States (REM Dream, Lucid Dream, and Waking) and 40 Hz Power Fit with Your Suggestion That 40 Hz Is a Substrate of Consciousness? .......................................................... 201
Wolf Singer

34 Do You Agree That Freud’s Dream Theory Was Erroneous with Respect to (1) The Genesis of Dreaming (Release of Repressed Infantile Wishes) and (2) The Bizarreness of Dreams (Disguise and Censorship of Unacceptable Wishes)? .............................. 205
Mark Solms

35 The Term “Hypnosis” Suggests a Sleep-Like State and Recent Evidence Regarding Lucid Dreaming Bears on the Notion of a “Hidden Observer.” What Is Your View of the Analogy of Dreaming and Hypnosis? .......................................................... 211
David Spiegel

Giulio Tononi

37 From Your Point of View as a Clinical and Health Psychologist, What Is Your Reaction to the Hypothesis of a Virtual Reality Program for the Brain? .................................................. 219
Claus Vögele
38 Please Summarize Your Findings on the Dream Representation of Disability in Your Studies of Handicapped People. What Bearing Do These Data Have on Protoconsciousness Theory? ............................ 221
   Ursula Voss

   Lawrence Weiskrantz

40 How Can the Protoconsciousness Hypothesis Contribute to Philosophical Theories of Consciousness and the Self? .......................... 225
   Jennifer M. Windt

41 How Does the Formal Approach to Mind Taken by Protoconsciousness Science Compare with the Formal Approach to Works of Art That You Espouse? .......................... 231
   Hellmut Wohl
