Contents

1 Preludes ............................................. 1
  1.1 Disquieting Imagination .......................... 2
  1.2 The Rough Drafts of Tiny Humanity ............... 4
  1.3 Objects Are Closer Than They Appear .............. 7
  1.4 Dilemmas of Introductions ....................... 8

2 Affecting Psychoanalysis ................................. 13
  2.1 Preconditions as Another Term for Origins ... 14
  2.2 An Education in Psychoanalysis ................. 16
  2.3 Entrances and Exists ............................... 17
  2.4 Education as We Do Not Know It ................. 19
  2.5 Prolepsis: 1927 Symposium on Child Analysis and the Fallout of Education .................. 23

3 The Early Education of Psychoanalysis ................. 25
  3.1 Attractions in the Making ......................... 26
  3.2 The Work of Libido ............................... 29
  3.3 Transference ....................................... 31
  3.4 Little Hans: The First Case of Child Analysis ........ 31
  3.5 Klein’s “Development of a Child, Part One” .... 33

4 Away from Education: Step-by-Step .................... 37
  4.1 A Change of Heart ................................. 38
  4.2 “The Child’s Resistance to Enlightenment”: Part Two .................. 39
  4.3 Libido Goes to School ............................. 40
  4.4 What Is the Teacher To Do? ....................... 43
  4.5 “Just Like Dreams” ................................. 43

5 The Psychoanalytic Situation: Early Analysis and Its Theory of Play Technique ............ 47
  5.1 “Forgets All Dreams”: The Early Clinic of Klein’s Berlin Practice ..................... 48
  5.2 Anxiety as Deep-Seated ............................ 52
5.3 “I Don’t Mind”: From Monotonous Games to Worries of Being Watched ..................................................... 53
5.4 “There’s Something About Life I Don’t like”: Erna’s Depression and the Mother’s Body ........................................ 54
5.5 A World of Small Toys and Gigantic Feelings ......................... 56

6 “Everything Good and Bad”: Developing Depressive Position and Imagination ...................................................... 57
6.1 From Weaning and Loss to Symbolization of Mind .................. 59
6.2 Little “Dick” ........................................................................ 61
6.3 “Most of All, I’d Like to Put Mama in the Corner”: Opera Boy .... 63
6.4 Psychotic States, Internal Persecutors, and the Depressive Position ...................................................................... 65
6.5 The Dispersal of Love and the Designated Mourner .................. 67

7 “Six Degrees of Separation”: The Freud-Klein Controversies 1941–1945 ................................................................. 71
7.1 Education and Infancy .............................................................. 72
7.2 Psychoanalytic Diaspora ......................................................... 74
7.3 A Family Affair ..................................................................... 75
7.4 Drives Versus Object Relations ............................................. 77
7.5 Compromises ...................................................................... 78

8 “If I Were You”: A Phantasy in Two Parts .................................. 79
8.1 Splitting of the Object and the Ego ........................................ 80
8.2 Boundless Transference ........................................................ 84
8.3 Projective Identifications and the Changes of Identity .............. 86
8.4 “To Bite the Hand that Feeds One”: Emotional Attitudes and the Urge for Reparation .............................................. 87
8.5 “The Pain of Integration”........................................................ 89

9 Narratives of the Psychoanalytic Situation: On the Friendship of Mrs. K. and Richard ...................................................... 93
9.1 “Go Right to the Depths” ....................................................... 95
9.3 “Do Psycho-Analysts Go to Church?”: Fifty-Second Session, Sunday ..................................................................... 99
9.4 “Must We Say Goodbye?”: The Sadness of Parting .................. 101
9.5 A Fortuitous Meeting: Richard’s Recollections of the Analysis ... 104

References .............................................................................. 107
Melanie Klein
Early Analysis, Play, and the Question of Freedom
Britzman, D.P.
2016, VI, 112 p., Softcover
ISBN: 978-3-319-26083-9