

Contents

1 Introduction: Population Aging, Health-Caregiving to the Elderly, and International Labor Migration to Japan	1
1.1 Introduction	1
1.2 Main Argument of the Book	2
1.3 Design and Content of the Book	2
References.	4
2 Health-Caregiving to the Elderly in Japan: Professionalized Labor, Community-Based Approaches, and International Migration	5
2.1 Introduction	5
2.2 Research Design	8
2.2.1 Perspectives of the Chapter	9
2.2.2 Political Demography and Health-Caregiving	10
2.2.3 Social Capital and Health-Caregiving	12
2.3 Demand and Supply: Health Care to the Elderly in Japan	13
2.3.1 Population Aging	13
2.3.2 Long-Term Care Insurance	18
2.3.3 Health-Caregiving Outside the Family	20
2.4 Growing of a Market: Professionalized Approaches to Health-Caregiving in Japan	22
2.5 Activation of Social Capital: Community-Based Approaches to Health-Caregiving in Japan	24
2.6 Expanding Perspectives: International Migration and Health-Caregiving in Japan	27
2.7 Discussion of Findings and Concluding Thoughts	29
References.	32

3	International Health-Caregiver Migration to Japan and Germany: Policies Designed to Fail	37
3.1	Introduction	37
3.2	Research Design	38
3.3	Health-Caregiver Migration to Japan and Germany: Backgrounds and Systems	40
3.3.1	Japan and Germany: Paths to Health-Caregiver Migration	41
3.3.2	Japan's Economic Partnership Agreements and Germany's Triple Win Program	45
3.4	Discussion of Findings and Concluding Thoughts	60
	References.	63
4	International Migration to Japan: Political and Societal Responses to the Challenge of Integration.	67
4.1	Introduction	67
4.2	Research Design	69
4.2.1	Regionalism from Below and Trust-Learning	70
4.2.2	Trust-Learning, Democracy, and Diversity	71
4.2.3	Local Citizenship	73
4.3	Migration and Integration: The Composition of Japan's Foreign Population and Their Contribution to the Labor Market	75
4.3.1	The Composition of Japan's Foreign Population	77
4.3.2	The Contribution of Japan's Foreign Population to the Labor Market	83
4.4	Migration and Integration: The Path to Local Citizenship in Japan via Labor, Welfare, and Community	85
4.5	Discussion of Findings and Concluding Thoughts	93
	References.	94
5	Outlook: International Health-Caregiver Migration to Japan	99
5.1	Lessons Learned from the Case Study	99
5.2	Discussion of Current Policy Reforms	101
	References.	103

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-319-68011-8>

Population Aging and International Health-Caregiver
Migration to Japan

Vogt, G.

2018, VIII, 103 p. 14 illus. in color., Softcover

ISBN: 978-3-319-68011-8