
Contents

Part I Introduction

Introducing the Cast for Social Computing: Life-Like Characters

Helmut Prendinger, Mitsuru Ishizuka 3

Part II Languages and Tools for Life-Like Characters

Representing and Parameterizing Agent Behaviors

Jan Allbeck, Norm Badler 19

Toward a Unified Scripting Language: Lessons Learned from Developing CML and AML

Yasmine Arafa, Kaveh Kamyab, Ebrahim Mamdani 39

APML, a Markup Language for Believable Behavior Generation

Berardina De Carolis, Catherine Pelachaud, Isabella Poggi, Mark Steedman 65

STEP: a Scripting Language for Embodied Agents

Zhisheng Huang, Anton Eliëns, Cees Visser 87

gUI: Specifying Complete User Interaction

Andrew Marriott, Simon Beard 111

A Behavior Language: Joint Action and Behavioral Idioms

Michael Mateas, Andrew Stern 135

BEAT: the Behavior Expression Animation Toolkit

Justine Cassell, Hannes Högni Vilhjálmsón, Timothy Bickmore 163

Galatea: Open-Source Software for Developing Anthropomorphic Spoken Dialog Agents Shin-ichi Kawamoto, Hiroshi Shimodaira, Tsuneo Nitta, Takuya Nishimoto, Satoshi Nakamura, Katsunobu Itou, Shigeo Morishima, Tatsuo Yotsukura, Atsuhiko Kai, Akinobu Lee, Yoichi Yamashita, Takao Kobayashi, Keiichi Tokuda, Keikichi Hirose, Nobuaki Minematsu, Atsushi Yamada, Yasuharu Den, Takehito Utsuro, Shigeki Sagayama	187
MPML and SCREAM: Scripting the Bodies and Minds of Life-Like Characters Helmut Prendinger, Santi Saeyor, Mitsuru Ishizuka	213
<hr/>
Part III Systems and Applications
<hr/>
Great Expectations: Prediction in Entertainment Applications Robert Burke	245
Shallow and Inner Forms of Emotional Intelligence in Advisory Dialog Simulation Fiorella de Rosis, Berardina De Carolis, Valeria Carofiglio, Sebastiano Pizzutilo	271
Web Information Integration Using Multiple Character Agents Yasuhiko Kitamura	295
Expressive Behaviors for Virtual Worlds Stacy Marsella, Jonathan Gratch, Jeff Rickel	317
Playing with Agents – Agents in Social and Dramatic Games Ana Paiva, Rui Prada, Isabel Machado, Carlos Martinho, Marco Vala, André Silva	361
A Review of the Development of Embodied Presentation Agents and Their Application Fields Thomas Rist, Elisabeth André, Stephan Baldes, Patrick Gebhard, Martin Klesen, Michael Kipp, Peter Rist, Markus Schmitt	377
Interface Agents That Facilitate Knowledge Interactions Between Community Members Yasuyuki Sumi, Kenji Mase	405
Animated Agents Capable of Understanding Natural Language and Performing Actions Hozumi Tanaka, Takenobu Tokunaga, Yusuke Shinyama	429

Part IV Synopsis

What Makes Characters Seem Life-Like?
Barbara Hayes-Roth 447

Some Issues in the Design of Character Scripting and Specification Languages – a Personal View
Thomas Rist 463

Online Material..... 469

Index 471

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-540-00867-5>

Life-Like Characters

Tools, Affective Functions, and Applications

Prendinger, H.; Ishizuka, M. (Eds.)

2004, XII, 480 p., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-3-540-00867-5