Table of Contents

Emmanuel Reynaud
The Right to Social Security –
Current Challenges in International Perspective .................................................... 1

Eibe Riedel
The Human Right to Social Security: Some Challenges ........................................... 17

Malcolm Langford
The Right to Social Security and Implications for Law, Policy and Practice ...................................................................... ........ 29

Katharina Müller
Social Security Reforms and the Right to Social Security –
Latin America and Eastern Europe Compared ..................................................... 55

Sandra Liebenberg
The Judicial Enforcement of Social Security Rights in South Africa –
Enhancing Accountability for the Basic Needs of the Poor ............................... 69

Ursula Kulke and Germán López Morales

Angelika Nußberger
Evaluating the ILO’s Approach to Standard-Setting and Monitoring in the Field of Social Security ......................................................... 103

Shalini Sinha
Social Security for Women Workers in the Informal Economy –
SEWA’s Social Security Programme .................................................................. 117

Helen Bolderson
Exclusion of Vulnerable Groups
from Equal Access to Social Security –
The Case of Asylum Seekers in the UK ............................................................. 129

Peter Bakvis
Social Security Systems and the Neo-Liberal Challenge ................................. 145
Table of Contents

Warren R. McGillivray
Evaluating Reforms in Social Security Protection ............................................. 157

Alexia Bierweiler
Summary of Discussion...................................................................................... 171

Annex: List of Participants.................................................................................. 189
Social Security as a Human Right
Drafting a General Comment on Article 9 ICESCR - Some Challenges
Riedel, E.H. (Ed.)
2007, X, 189 p., Softcover
ISBN: 978-3-540-31467-7