
Contents

PART I

The Measure of a Life

Tracking Him Down: A Torrent of Stories	3
---	---

PART II

Family Background and Upbringing

The Family Tree	27
The Priestly Family at Nordfjordeid	33
Father's Home in Moss	47

PART III

School and Education

Nissen's School. Examen Artium	59
Student Life	71
The Lack of a Calling	95

PART IV

In Tune with the Times

Into Mathematical History	107
There was a Mathematician in Him	116
The First Tour Abroad	121
Parliamentary Professor	153

PART V

Professor in Christiania

"My Inner Life Has Been Most Mighty"	169
"My Life's Good Fortune"	205
Marriage at Last	220
Herr Professor mit seiner Gemahlin	230
In the Lee of "the Modern Breakthrough"	239

A Steady Stream of Works	259
The Mathematical Milieu at Home and Abroad	278
“It is Lonely, Terribly Lonely”	299
Summoned to Leipzig	312

PART VI

Professor in Leipzig

The Coming Period: A More Difficult Balancing Act	325
In the Big City of Leipzig	331
Breakdown	350
Fame	360
Conflicts	378
Norwegian Students	398
Back to Norway	406

PART VII

At the End of the Road

The Final Years	435
-----------------------	-----

Appendices

Chronology	455
Notes and Commentaries	460
Sophus Lie’s Descendants	512
Chronological Bibliography of Sophus Lie’s Published Works	518
Acknowledgements	532
List of Literature	534
Index of Names	545

<http://www.springer.com/978-3-540-42137-5>

The Mathematician Sophus Lie
It was the Audacity of My Thinking
Stubhaug, A.
2002, XI, 555 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-540-42137-5