Contents

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Preface</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Contributors</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Abbreviations</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

1 Economic and Security Institution Building in Northeast Asia: An Analytical Overview

Vinod K. Aggarwal and Min Gyo Koo

1.1 Introduction

1.2 Northeast Asia’s Changing Institutional Map

1.3 An Institutional Bargaining Game Approach and the Evolution of Northeast Asian Regionalism

1.4 Overview of the Book

1.5 Conclusion

2 South Korea’s Regional Economic Cooperation Policy: The Evolution of an Adaptive Strategy

Seungjoo Lee and Chung-in Moon

2.1 Introduction

2.2 Gains from Bilateral Security Alliance and Multilateral Trade Policy: Re-examining Cold War Legacies

2.3 The Emergence of South Korea’s Regional Policy in the Early Post-Cold War Period: Achievements and Limitations

2.4 The Asian Financial Crisis and Changes in South Korea’s Regional Policy

2.5 The Roh Moo-hyun Government’s New Regional Policy

2.6 Conclusion
3 Rhetoric or Vision? Chinese Responses to U.S. Unilateralism ................................................................. 63

KUN-CHIN LIN

3.1 Introduction ......................................................................... 63
3.2 The PRC’s Position in the Cold War Institutional Equilibrium: 1978-1989 ....................................................... 68
3.3 Negotiating New Regional Arrangements in the Post-Cold War Era: Sharpening the Survival Instinct of the Leninist Party-State ................................................... 70
3.4 After the Financial Crisis: First Opportunities for Chinese Leadership of Asian Regionalism ................................. 78
3.5 After 9/11: Broadening China’s Strategic Leeway .............. 83
3.6 Winding Roads Ahead: Scenarios for China’s Grand Strategy ............................................................................... 96

4 Under Pressure: Japan’s Institutional Response to Regional Uncertainty ......................................................... 109

SAOIRI N. KATADA AND MIREYA SOLIS

4.1 Introduction ....................................................................... 109
4.2 Economic Shocks and the Persistence of Security Constraints ............................................................................ 110
4.3 Japan and the New Regional Trade Architecture ......... 118
4.4 Japan and the New Regional Financial Architecture ...... 130
4.5 Conclusion ......................................................................... 140

5 North Korea’s Strategy for Regime Survival and East Asian Regionalism .................................................. 149

SANG-YOUNG RHYU

5.1 Introduction ....................................................................... 149
5.2 North Korea’s Development in the Cold War Equilibrium ............................................................................ 150
5.3 Early Attempts at Integration after the End of the Cold War ............................................................................ 151
5.4 Aftermath of the 1997 Asian Financial Crisis ................. 155
5.5 Post-9/11 North Korean Regionalism: The Gaesong Special Economic Zone and the Six-Party Talks .......... 157
5.6 Security and Trade: Reluctant Coexistence Under a Fragile Equilibrium .................................................................166
5.7 North Korea and East Asian Regionalism .......................174

6 Impassive to Imperial? Russia in Northeast Asia from Yeltsin to Putin .................................................................179
TAEHWAN KIM

6.1 Introduction........................................................................179
6.2 The International Domestic Nexus: An Analytical Framework .................................................................180
6.3 Post-Cold War: Neofeudal Governance and External Drift....................................................................................183
6.4 Post-Financial Crisis: Breaking Up the Neofeudal Coalition.............................................................................191
6.5 Post-9/11: The Neobus dimensional coalition and Russian Neomercantilism in Northeast Asia ................96
6.6 Scenario Analysis........................................................................206
6.7 Conclusion..........................................................................208

7 Security in Northeast Asia: Time for New Architecture?............................................................................213
ELLEN L. FROST AND DAVID C. KANG

7.1 Introduction........................................................................213
7.2 Changes in the External Environment................................216
7.3 Other Changes in the Regional Environment...................221
7.4 The Adequacy of Existing Institutions............................232
7.5 Institution-Building in Northeast Asia..............................236
7.6 Conclusion..........................................................................240

8 The Future of Northeast Asia’s Institutional Architecture...........................................................................245
VINOD K. AGGARWAL, MIN GYO KOO, AND SEUNGJOO LEE

8.1 Introduction.........................................................................245
8.3 Cross-National Developments ........................................... 251
8.4 The Future of Economic and Security Institutional
   Building in Northeast Asia.................................................. 257

Index .................................................................................. 263
Northeast Asia
Ripe for Integration?
Aggarwal, V.K.; Koo, M.G.; Lee, S.; Moon, C.-I. (Eds.)
2009, XVI, 268 p., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-3-540-79593-3