Contents

1 Remote Sensing, Geospatial Technologies and Coastal Ecosystems . . 1
Xiaojun Yang

Part I Conceptual and Technical Issues

2 Sensors and Techniques for Observing Coastal Ecosystems ......... 17
Victor V. Klemas

3 Geographic Information Systems and Spatial Analysis for Coastal
Ecosystem Research and Management . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 45
Jialing Wang, Libin Zhou and Xiaojun Yang

4 Fuzzy Approach for Integrated Coastal Zone Management ....... 67
Tao Cheng, Martien Molenaar and Alfred Stein

5 Spatial Data Infrastructures for Coastal Environments .......... 91
Dawn J. Wright

Part II Remote Sensing of Coastal Waters

6 Airborne Remote Sensing of Chlorophyll in Chesapeake Bay, USA . . 115
Lawrence W. Harding, Jr. and W. David Miller

7 Bio-Optical Characteristics and Remote Sensing in the Mid Chesapeake Bay Through Integration of Observations and Radiative Transfer Closure . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 139
Maria Tzortziou, Charles L. Gallegos, Patrick J. Neale, Ajit
Subramaniam, Jay R. Herman and Lawrence W. Harding, Jr.
Part III  Mapping Submerged Aquatic Vegetation and Benthic Habitats

8  High-Resolution Ocean Color Remote Sensing of Coral Reefs and Associated Benthic Habitats ........................................... 171
Deepak R. Mishra

9  An Integrated Approach to Benthic Habitat Mapping Using Remote Sensing and GIS: An Example from the Hawaiian Islands . . 211
Ann E. Gibbs and Susan A. Cochran

10  Assessment of the Abundance of Submerged Aquatic Vegetation (SAV) Communities in the Chesapeake Bay and its Use in SAV Management ................................................................. 233
Kenneth A. Moore, Robert J. Orth and David J. Wilcox

11  Distribution and Spatial Change of Hudson River Estuary Submerged Aquatic Vegetation: Implications for Coastal Management and Natural Resource Protection ................. 259
William C. Nieder, Susan Hoskins, Stephen D. Smith and Stuart E.G. Findlay

12  Mapping Marine Macrophytes along the Atlantic Coast of Tierra Del Fuego (Argentina) by Remote Sensing .......................... 279
Sandra E. Torrusio

Part IV  Shoreline Change, Coastal Wetland and Watershed Characterization

13  Shoreline Mapping and Coastal Change Studies Using Remote Sensing Imagery and LIDAR Data ................................. 297
Hongxing Liu

14  Remote Sensing of Coastal Mangrove Forest ............................. 323
Le Wang and Wayne P. Sousa

15  Remote Sensing Support for Tidal Wetland Vegetation Research and Management ......................................................... 341
Maggi Kelly and Karin Tuxen

16  Assessment of Coastal-vegetation Habitats Using Airborne Laser Remote Sensing ............................................................... 365
Amar Nayegandhi and John C. Brock

17  Measuring Habitat Changes in Barrier Island Marshes: An Example from Southeastern North Carolina, USA ..................... 391
Joanne N. Halls

18  Mapping Fire Scars and Marsh Recovery with Remote Sensing Data 415
Elijah Ramsey III, Amina Rangoonwala, Frank Baarnes and Ruth Spell
