The symposium “Solidarity: A Structural Principle of International Law” was held at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg on 29 October 2008. Special appreciation for the organisational matters of the symposium goes to Yvonne Klein and Marina Filinberg, both in the office of Rüdiger Wolfrum, and to Klaus Zimmermann, the head of the Institute’s administration. The technical support, namely recording of the discussions, was provided by the staff of the Institute, including Dietmar Bussmann, Roland Braun and Florian Finocchiaro. Editors further acknowledge the invaluable assistance of Kazimir Menzel and Florian Schacker in editing as well as the Institute’s editorial staff, namely Angelika Schmidt, directed by Christiane Philipp in formatting the manuscript.
