Part I  Foundations

1  Goethe’s Swan ................................................................. 3
   1.1 The Paradigms ......................................................... 3
   1.2 The Eternal Return of Natural Law ............................... 4
   1.3 What is the Nature of Natural Law? ............................ 4

2  The Contributions of the Paradigm “Natural Law” ............... 9
   2.1 Natural Law is a Legal Pluralist Ontology ...................... 9
   2.2 Natural Law and Legal Principles ............................... 10
   2.3 Natural Law, a Juridical Vigilant of Power .................... 11
   2.4 Natural Law, a Bridge Between Law and Morality .......... 12

3  Sterility of Natural Law Theoricism ................................. 13
   3.1 The Leipzig Book Fairs ............................................. 13
   3.2 Deconstructing Myths About Natural Law ....................... 15
       3.2.1 Natural Law is Not the Perfect Law ....................... 15
       3.2.2 Natural Law Needs Positive Law (and Vice Versa) ..... 16
       3.2.3 Natural Law May Change ................................... 17
       3.2.4 Natural Law is Neither a Decalogue Nor a List of Legal Titles. ................................................. 19

4  From the Side of Positivism ........................................... 21
   4.1 Legalistic Positivism ............................................... 21
   4.2 Sociological Positivism and Historicism ....................... 22
Part II  New Visions Old Questions

5 Contemporary Natural Law Dialogues ................................. 25
  5.1 A Plural Natural Law, in Dialogue ............................ 25
  5.2 Dialogues with Literature, Economic Theory and Theories of Justice ........................................... 26
    5.2.1 Natural Law and Literature ............................ 26
    5.2.2 Natural Law and Economy .............................. 27
    5.2.3 Natural Law and New Theories of Justice ............... 28
  5.3 Dialogues with the Past: the Issue of “Classic” or “Modern” Natural Law ............................ 29
  5.4 The Dialogue Between Natural Law and Human Rights ......... 34
  5.5 For a Non-political and Unitary Theory of Natural Law .... 36

6 What Natural Law Is, What It Is Not ................................. 39
  6.1 Natural Law Is Esoteric ..................................... 39
  6.2 Natural Law Is a Method ..................................... 39
  6.3 Natural Law Is Not a Code ................................... 41
  6.4 Natural Law Is Not Even Written ...................................... 41
  6.5 Natural Law Is Dialectical ................................... 42

7 Legacies and Achievements of Iusnaturalism ...................... 45
  7.1 Lights and Shadows of the Political Legacy of Iusnaturalism .................. 45
  7.2 The Legacy of Natural Law Principles and the Hierarchy of Legal Sources .................. 48
  7.3 Iusnaturalism, a “Constant and Perpetual” Quest and Fight for Justice. Pedagogy of Justice .................. 48
  7.4 Iusnaturalism, a Monument of Intellectual Pluralism .................. 49
  7.5 Iusnaturalism, Philosophical Father of Human Rights .................. 50
  7.6 Natural Law as Theories of Justice. The Apory of ‘Suum’ and Social Justice .................. 51
  7.7 Justice, Constans et Perpetua Voluntas .................. 54

8 Avatars of Natural Law. Natural Law in Different Colours ....... 55
  8.1 Beyond the Classic Opposition Natural/Positive .................. 55
  8.2 The Law or the Judge? ..................................... 55
  8.3 The Dogma or the Topic? .................................... 56
  8.4 All the Theories ........................................... 57
  8.5 New Theories. The example of Neo-constitutionalism .................. 58
  8.6 New inputs. The example of “Vital Law” .................. 59
  8.7 A Critical Neo-Iusnaturalism .................. 59

Appendix ........................................................................ 61

References ..................................................................... 63
Rethinking Natural Law
Ferreira da Cunha, P.
2013, XVI, 70 p., Softcover
ISBN: 978-3-642-32658-5