1	Introduction	17
1.1	Context and relevance of the study.....	17
1.2	Focus of the study.....	22
1.3	Method.....	23
1.4	Outline of the study	24
2	Theoretical Background.....	27
2.1	Teaching Quality	28
2.1.1	The concept of teaching quality	28
2.1.2	Developing teaching quality: Learner orientation	31
2.2	Teacher Professionalism.....	34
2.2.1	The concept of teacher professionalism	35
2.2.2	Developing teacher professionalism: Professional development of teachers	41
2.3	Measuring educational quality.....	45
2.3.1	Measuring teaching quality	45
2.3.2	Measuring teacher professionalism	47
2.3.3	Student outcome as indicator of quality	54
2.4	Research desideratum	59
2.4.1	Research questions	59
2.4.2	Hypotheses	60
2.5	Analytical framework of this study	62
3	The cascade training: ‘Implementation of learner-oriented education’	65
3.1	Context of the cascade training	65
3.1.1	The Cameroonian context for education.....	66
3.1.2	History of the cascade training	67
3.2	Objectives of the cascade training	69
3.3	Content of the cascade training	70
3.4	Structure of the cascade training.....	71

4	Methodological approach.....	75
4.1	Challenges of research in development cooperation countries	75
4.2	Design.....	80
4.3	Instrumentation of the study.....	82
4.3.1	Instrumentation of the teacher questionnaire.....	84
4.3.2	Instrumentation of the video survey	87
4.3.3	Instrumentation of the achievement test in natural sciences..	88
4.3.4	Instrumentation of the student questionnaire.....	91
4.3.5	Instrumentation of the school questionnaire.....	93
4.4	Sample.....	96
4.5	Analysis of the empirical data	99
4.5.1	Pretest of the data collection instruments	99
4.5.2	Data analysis of the questionnaire data	100
4.5.3	Data analysis of the video data	102
4.5.4	Data analysis of the achievement test.....	107
4.5.5	Limitations of the study.....	109
5	Empirical findings: Effects of the cascade training of the professional development programme.....	111
5.1	School portraits.....	111
5.2	Effects of the cascade training on the self-reported teaching practice.	119
5.2.1	Comparability of the teacher groups	120
5.2.2	Professional Development.....	122
5.2.3	Perceived learner orientation.....	127
5.2.4	Perceived teaching practice	129
5.2.5	Results of the test of the hypotheses in regards to the self-reported teaching practice.....	131
5.2.6	Summary of the effects of the cascade training on the self-reported teaching practice.....	132
5.3	Effects of the cascade training on the actual teaching practice.....	133
5.3.1	Comparison of the ratings of the single video profiles	133
5.3.2	Comparison of the ratings of the group video profiles	134
5.3.3	Statistical comparison of the group profiles	138
5.3.4	Result of the test of the hypotheses in regards to the actual teaching practice	138
5.3.5	Summary of the results of the cascade training on the actual teaching practice.....	140
5.4	Effects of the cascade training on the students' achievement.....	142

5.4.1	Comparability of the student groups	142
5.4.2	Effects of the cascade training on student achievement	148
5.4.3	Results of the test of the hypotheses in regards to the student achievement	155
5.4.4	Summary of the effects of the cascade training on the students	157
6	Discussion: Success and risk conditions for the implementation of cascade training in professional development	159
6.1	Summary of the results	159
6.2	Effectiveness of the cascade training	160
6.2.1	No dilution of the cascade	161
6.2.2	Professional Learning Communities as support for the effectiveness of cascade models	162
6.3	Success condition I: Conception & Implementation of cascade training	165
6.3.1	Didactic and coherent structures support conceptual change of teachers	166
6.3.2	School support structures	168
6.3.3	Content design of trainings with cognitive and affective-motivational components.....	172
6.4	Success condition II: Indicators of effective cascade training	173
6.4.1	Improved student achievement as indicator for quality.....	173
6.4.2	Stronger learner orientation as an indicator for quality	175
6.5	Risk conditions I: High teacher mobility.....	176
6.5.1	Brain drain of intensely trained programme multipliers.....	177
6.5.2	Teacher allocation as challenge for professional development programmes.....	179
6.6	Marginalisation of non-governmental school sectors as challenging context for professional development.....	180
7	Conclusion	185
7.1	Implications for practice	185
7.1.1	Evidence-based development of professional development programmes	185
7.1.2	Lessons learnt for the implementation of cascade models.....	189
7.2	Implications for research	190
