Contents

Part I Coaching as Profession

1 Is Coaching on Its Way to Becoming a Profession? A Profession-Centric Sociological Assessment 3 Beate Fietze

2 The Ambivalent Relationship Between Coaching Research and Coaching Practice: Discreetly Ignoring, Critically Observing or Beneficially Cooperating? 23 Silja Kotte, Katrin Oellerich, Denise Elisabeth Hinn and Heidi Möller

3 Hard to Evaluate: Coaching Services 47 Siegfried Greif

4 The Professional Relationship in Coaching—Polarities and Paradoxes 69 Christoph Schmidt-Lellek

Part II Coaching in Connection with Other Professional Formats

5 Coaching in the Context of Social Systems 85 Thomas Dallüge

6 Coaching in Relation to Psychotherapy 101 Christoph Schmidt-Lellek
7 Coaching in Consultation of Companies .......................... 113
   Thomas Dallüge

8 Coaching in Projects ........................................... 127
   Ulrich Schueler

Part III Knowledge and Competencies in Coaching

9 Experience—Science—Philosophy Three Types of Knowledge for Conceiving Consultation .................. 147
   Ferdinand Buer

10 Hermeneutics for Coaching ................................. 165
   Christoph Schmidt-Lellek

11 The Potential Diversity of a Coach’s Roles .................. 179
   Astrid Schreyögg

12 Competency Requirements for Coaches ....................... 193
   Ingo Steinke

13 Coaching and Group Dynamics ................................. 223
   Thomas Bachmann

14 Emotions in the Context of Coaching ......................... 249
   Beate West-Leuer

Part IV Conceptional Variations of Coaching

15 Internal Coaching Within Organizations .................... 267
   Astrid Schreyögg

16 Coaching in SMEs—The German Mittelstand Professional
   Counseling “from Next Door” ................................ 285
   Cornelia Seewald

17 Life Coaching: Family-of-Origin Dynamics ................... 303
   Astrid Schreyögg

18 Gender Coaching—A Critical Analysis ........................ 319
   Gabriele Bollhöfer

19 Coaching Through Modern Media ............................... 329
   Harald Geißler and Stella Kanatouri
The Professionalization of Coaching
A Reader for the Coach
Schreyögg, A.; Schmidt-Lellek, C. (Eds.)
2017, XII, 347 p. 13 illus., Softcover
ISBN: 978-3-658-16804-9