

Table of contents

Index of figures.....	XIII
Index of tables.....	XV
List of abbreviations.....	XVII
1 Introduction.....	1
1.1 Context and relevance.....	1
1.2 Research questions and objective .....	4
1.3 Research approach .....	6
1.4 Structure of dissertation .....	8
2 Theoretical foundations of silver agers and user involvement .....	11
2.1 Demographic changes and the establishment of the silver market .....	11
2.1.1 Ageing societies .....	11
2.1.2 Characterisation of silver agers .....	11
2.1.3 Silver agers as a distant target group .....	15
2.1.4 Age-based innovation for silver agers.....	15
2.2 User involvement in new product development .....	16
2.2.1 Innovation management, fuzzy front-end of innovation and idea generation .....	16
2.2.2 Meeting customer requirements.....	17
2.2.3 User involvement to meet customer needs.....	18
2.2.3.1 Development history of user involvement in new product development.....	18
2.2.3.2 Effects of user involvement.....	19
2.2.3.3 Typology of user involvement.....	20
2.2.3.4 Frameworks on the degree of user involvement.....	24
3 Foundations of research in the field of cognitive distance .....	33
3.1 Co-citation methodology.....	33
3.2 Results.....	36
3.2.1 Cluster distribution .....	37
3.2.2 Cluster 1 – Cognitive distance and construal level.....	37
3.2.3 Cluster 2 – Interrelation between four dimensions of cognitive distance...39
3.2.4 Cluster 3 – Spatial distance and construal levels.....	40
3.2.5 Cluster 4 – Subjective distance and emotional involvement.....	40

3.2.6	Cluster 5 – Social distance and focalism.....	41
3.2.7	Cluster 6 – Temporal distance influencing behaviours and decisions .....	42
3.2.8	Cluster 7 – Communication between geographically distributed or virtual teams .....	42
3.2.9	Cluster 8 – Network and organisational proximity.....	43
3.3	Discussion .....	44
3.3.1	Cognitive distance – A gap in innovation management .....	45
3.3.2	Applicability of cognitive distance subcategories in new product development .....	47
3.3.3	Requirements for cognitive distance subcategory measures .....	50
3.3.4	Social distance operationalisation through social capital .....	51
3.4	Conclusion of co-citation analysis .....	52
4	Research questions and hypotheses for the experimental study .....	53
4.1	Research gap and research question.....	53
4.2	Hypotheses development for product development outcomes.....	54
4.2.1	Hypothesis regarding idea quality.....	55
4.2.1.1	Cognitive distance.....	56
4.2.1.2	User involvement .....	60
4.2.1.3	Cognitive distance and user involvement.....	65
4.2.2	Hypothesis regarding idea quantity.....	67
4.2.2.1	Cognitive distance.....	67
4.2.2.2	User involvement .....	68
5	Selection of research context for quantitative study .....	71
5.1	Choice of experimental approach.....	71
5.2	Classification of experimental approach.....	73
5.3	Industry context of experimental setting .....	75
6	Pre-study – Analysis of silver agers’ personal dispositions and air travel customer experiences .....	77
6.1	Purpose and methodology.....	77
6.2	Data collection.....	77
6.2.1	Survey development .....	77
6.2.2	Structure and constructs .....	79
6.2.3	Cooperation partners .....	81
6.2.4	Sample description .....	82
6.3	Flight patterns and preferences of silver agers.....	83

6.4	Silver-ager characteristics.....	86
6.4.1	Cognitive age.....	86
6.4.2	Innovation- and product-related user characteristics.....	88
6.5	Pain points of air travel customer experience.....	92
6.6	Interim conclusion.....	97
7	Distance effects in product development for silver agers .....	101
7.1	Study methodology/approach.....	101
7.1.1	Research framework.....	102
7.1.2	Context and institutional partners .....	103
7.1.3	Survey for development participants.....	104
7.1.4	Experimental workshops.....	105
7.1.4.1	Workshop structure .....	105
7.1.4.2	Treatments .....	107
7.1.4.3	Design of ideation session .....	111
7.1.4.4	Trial runs .....	113
7.1.4.5	Addressing reliability and validity of experimental design.....	113
7.1.5	Idea assessment.....	115
7.1.5.1	Judge selection .....	116
7.1.5.2	Rating method.....	117
7.1.5.3	Rating session.....	118
7.1.6	Operationalisation of constructs.....	118
7.1.6.1	Independent variables from participant survey.....	118
7.1.6.2	Independent and dependent variables from experimental workshops.....	123
7.1.6.3	Dependant variables from idea assessment.....	124
7.1.7	Data analysis technique.....	125
7.2	Findings from experimental study.....	126
7.2.1	Data set for analysis .....	126
7.2.2	Exemplary ideas generated in workshops .....	127
7.2.3	Descriptive analysis.....	129
7.2.3.1	Control variables – Diversity of workshop participants.....	129
7.2.3.2	Independent variables – Characteristics of participants.....	131
7.2.3.3	Dependant variables – Ideated output from workshops.....	134
7.2.3.4	Descriptive analyses of workshop control variables .....	137

---

7.2.3.5	Interim conclusion of descriptive analyses.....	143
7.2.4	Multiple regression analysis .....	144
7.2.5	Study 1 – Effects on idea quality.....	145
7.2.5.1	Correlation analysis .....	146
7.2.5.2	Regression model.....	149
7.2.6	Study 2 – Effects on idea quantity.....	154
7.2.6.1	Correlation analysis .....	154
7.2.6.2	Regression model.....	155
7.2.7	Evaluation of hypotheses of study 1 and study 2 .....	156
8	Discussion and implications .....	159
8.1	Relevant streams of research on cognitive distance .....	159
8.2	Cognitive distance and user involvement in ideation.....	160
8.2.1	Summary of effects on idea quality (study 1) .....	160
8.2.2	Summary of effects on idea quantity (study 2) .....	160
8.2.3	Effects of cognitive distance.....	161
8.2.4	User involvement and moderation of cognitive distance.....	164
8.2.5	Dyadic co-creation with silver agers .....	167
8.3	Contribution.....	169
8.3.1	Academic research.....	169
8.3.1.1	Implications for cognitive distance research in management research .....	169
8.3.1.2	Implications for user involvement of silver agers in ideation.....	170
8.3.2	Managerial implications .....	171
8.3.3	Limitations and suggestions for further research .....	174
