

Contents

1	The Future of Extinction	1
1.1	Goodbye to the Baiji	1
1.2	Hello to the Anthropocene	2
1.3	Wicked Problems and Socio-Technical Imaginaries	5
1.4	Telling Stories about Extinction	7
1.5	Taking Control of Nature’s Realm	8
1.6	The Once and Future Baiji	10
	References	12
2	A Political History of Extinction	15
2.1	From Eden to Extinction... and Back Again?	15
2.2	Fossils and Frontiers: Debating Extinction During the Enlightenment	18
2.3	The Politics of Extinction in the Progressive Era	20
2.4	Spaceship Earth: Twentieth Century Environmentalism	23
2.5	Climate, Catastrophe and Conservation Biology	24
2.6	Everything Old is New Again: Biotechnology and De-Extinction ..	27
	References	28
3	Bio-Inventories: The Digitization of Nature	31
3.1	They Had to Count Them All: Bioinformatics and DNA Barcoding	31
3.2	Cracking the Code of Life: Bioinformatics in the Twentieth Century	32
3.3	The Encyclopedia of Life	34
3.4	A Barcode for Every Species	37
	3.4.1 Transforming Ecology: From Species to Genes	38
	3.4.2 The Taxonomic Impediment	39
3.5	Digital Natures	42
	References	45
4	Bio-Interventions: Cloning Endangered Species as Wildlife Conservation	49
4.1	Is Nature Over?	49
4.2	The Molecular Frontier: Biotechnology and Life as Code	51

- 4.3 From Wistar Rats to Oncomice: Engineering Animals 54
- 4.4 Dolly and Polly: Animal Cloning Hits the Big Time 57
- 4.5 Noah’s Ark: Cloning on the Edge of Extinction 59
- 4.6 Preservation in a Petri Dish 61
- References 64

- 5 Bio-Identities: Cloning the Recently Extinct 67
- 5.1 Liminal Lives: The Biopolitics of De-extinction 67
- 5.2 The Past Comes Alive: Ancient DNA as Time Travel 68
 - 5.2.1 No Longer Dead as a Dodo 69
 - 5.2.2 Everything Old is New Again 71
- 5.3 Tasmanian Tiger Tales 73
 - 5.3.1 You don’t know what you got until you lose it 74
- 5.4 Spectacular Science 77
- 5.5 Pickled Pups and Promises 80
- 5.6 Reviving and Restoring 82
- 5.7 See It Now, While It’s Still Extinct 84
- References 86

- 6 Bio-Imaginaries: Bringing Back the Woolly Mammoth 89
- 6.1 Entering the Hall of Extinct Monsters 89
- 6.2 How to Resurrect a Woolly Mammoth 91
 - 6.2.1 Raising the Mammoth 92
 - 6.2.2 Pleistocene Dreams 94
- 6.3 Engineering Life: Synthetic Biology 95
- 6.4 In Search of Lost Worlds 96
- References 98

<http://www.springer.com/978-94-017-9120-5>

Mendel's Ark
Biotechnology and the Future of Extinction
Fletcher, A.L.
2014, VIII, 99 p. 10 illus., Hardcover
ISBN: 978-94-017-9120-5