

Contents

|          |                                                                                                                                                |            |
|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 1 | Introduction: Victim Participation in International Criminal Justice . . . . .                                                          | 1   |
|          | Kinga Tibori-Szabó and Megan Hirst                                                                                                             |            |
| 2 | The Application Process: Procedure and Players. . . . . .                                                                               | 11  |
|          | Mélissa Fardel and Nuria Vehils Olarra                                                                                                         |            |
| 3 | Requirements for Victim Participation . . . . .                                                                                         | 45  |
|          | Heloise Dumont                                                                                                                                 |            |
| 4 | The Role of Intermediaries and Third Parties in Victim Participation . . . . .                                                          | 81  |
|          | Mariana Pena                                                                                                                                   |            |
| 5 | Legal Representation of Participating Victims. . . . . .                                                                                | 111 |
|          | Megan Hirst                                                                                                                                    |            |
| 6 | The Protection of Victims Participating in International Criminal Justice . . . . .                                                     | 171 |
|          | Yaiza Alvarez Reyes                                                                                                                            |            |
| 7 | Victims' Rights and Obligations as Regards the Case File: Access, Disclosure and Filing Submissions . . . . .                           | 205 |
|          | Caroline Walter                                                                                                                                |            |
| 8 | Victims' Lawyers in the Courtroom: Opening and Closing Statements, Questioning Witnesses, Challenging and Presenting Evidence . . . . . | 243 |
|          | Peter Haynes                                                                                                                                   |            |
| 9 | Victims Appearing in Person Before a Chamber . . . . .                                                                                  | 283 |
|          | Daniella Rudy and Megan Hirst                                                                                                                  |            |

10 Victims in the Witness Stand: Socio-Cultural and Psychological Challenges in Eliciting Victim Testimony . . . . . 315
 Ellie Smith

11 Victims’ Attendance in the Courtroom to Observe Proceedings . . . . 341
 Elizabeth A. Turchi

12 The Rights of Participating Victims to Appeal and Participate in the Appeal Against Interlocutory Decisions and Trial Judgments . . . . . 357
 Kinga Tibori-Szabó

13 Reparations, Assistance and Support . . . . . 385
 Carla Ferstman

14 Termination of Victim Participation . . . . . 413
 Megan Hirst

15 Communication Between Victims’ Lawyers and Their Clients . . . . . 433
 Kinga Tibori-Szabó, Barbara Bianchini, Anushka Sehmi
 and Silke Studzinsky

16 International Criminal Proceedings—An Adequate Tool for Victims’ Justice? . . . . . 467
 Rianne Letschert

Table of Cases . . . . . 473

Index . . . . . 475

<http://www.springer.com/978-94-6265-176-0>

Victim Participation in International Criminal Justice
Practitioners' Guide

Tibori-Szabó, K.; Hirst, M. (Eds.)

2017, XVIII, 479 p. 4 illus., Hardcover

ISBN: 978-94-6265-176-0

A product of T.M.C. Asser Press