

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	Statement of the Research Question	6
1.2	Previous Arguments	8
1.3	Theory: Three Determinants of Variations in Emerging Democracies	15
1.4	Significance of the Study	17
1.5	Structure of the Book	18
	References	18
2	Theory	21
2.1	Multidimensional Preferences	24
2.2	Political Market Failure	27
2.3	State Capacity	31
2.4	Limitation of Class-Based Coalitions in Emerging Democracies	32
2.5	Other Variables	35
	References	36
3	The State of Emerging Democracies	43
3.1	Trends of Inequality	43
3.2	Three Variables and Inequality	49
	References	55
4	Multidimensionality and Preferences for Income Equality	57
4.1	Conceptualizing Multidimensionality and Redistribution Preferences	59
4.2	Research Design	60
4.3	Results	67
	References	73

- 5 Political Determinants of Income Inequality: Panel Analysis 75
 - 5.1 Conceptualization: Political Market and State Capacity 76
 - 5.2 Research Design 79
 - 5.3 Results 92
 - References 103
- 6 Conclusion. 107
- Index 111

<http://www.springer.com/978-981-10-0256-4>

Political Determinants of Income Inequality in Emerging Democracies

Kawanaka, T.; Hazama, Y.

2016, IX, 112 p. 13 illus. in color., Softcover

ISBN: 978-981-10-0256-4