Sex Roles: A Journal of Research Feminist Forum section

The journal Sex Roles publishes a section called Feminist Forum. Papers in this section include a 25-50 page scholarly opinion piece dealing with gender or gender differences, taking a definite point of view. These papers should provide a new interpretation of the empirical literature, and should be supported by citations to scholarly sources. The paper is followed by one to four commentaries and a rebuttal. If your paper has been accepted to this section, we will ask you to provide names of potential commentary authors who we may invite to write commentaries.

Sample past Feminist Forum sections include:

Vol. 59, 7/8 (October 2008)

Gendered Political Behavior: A Darwinian Feminist Approach by Rebecca J. Hannagan, with commentaries by Laurette T. Liesen, Griet Vandermassen, and Celeste M. Condit

Vol. 62, 3/4 (February 2010)

Controversies Involving Gender and Intimate Partner Violence in the United States by Jennifer Langhinrichsen-Rohling, with commentaries by Jody M. Ross & Julia C. Babcock, Evan Stark, and Michael P. Johnson

Vol. 63, 11/12 (December 2010)

Why Do Women Do the Lion's Share of Housework? A Decade of Research by Mylène Lachance-Grzela and Geneviève Bouchard, with commentaries by Sharon T. Claffey & Kayli R. Manning, Shannon N. Davis, and Scott Coltrane

If you are interested in submitting a paper to the Feminist Forum section, you can write to the Editorial Office at sroles@pitt.edu with any ideas or questions for the Editor, or you can submit a paper directly to the online submission site: <http://www.editorialmanager.com/sers/> When submitting your paper, please select the article type "Feminist Forum Review Article".
