Journal of Business Ethics
Editor-in-Chief: R.E. Freeman; M. Greenwood

Discusses ethical issues related to business, from a wide variety of methodological and disciplinary perspectives
Examines moral aspects of systems of production, consumption, marketing, advertising, social and economic accounting, labor relations, public relations and organizational behavior
Avoids specialist jargon in favor of dialogue
Involves all who are interested in business ethics
95% of authors who answered a survey reported that they would definitely publish or probably publish in the journal again.

The Journal of Business Ethics publishes only original articles from a wide variety of methodological and disciplinary perspectives concerning ethical issues related to business that bring something new or unique to the discourse in their field. Contributors examine moral aspects of systems of production, consumption, marketing, advertising, social and economic accounting, labor relations, public relations and organizational behavior. In order to promote a dialogue between the various interested groups as much as possible, papers are presented in a style relatively free of specialist jargon.

From its inception the Journal has aimed to improve the human condition by providing a public forum for discussion and debate about ethical issues related to business.

The style and level of dialogue involve all who are interested in business ethics - the business community, universities, government agencies and consumer groups.

FT 50 - This journal is one of the 50 journals used by the Financial Times in compiling the prestigious Business School research rank

Thomson Reuters Journal Citation Reports® Ranking by Category

- Ethics 2/54
- Business 33/147

Impact Factor: 3.796 (2018), Journal Citation Reports®

On the homepage of Journal of Business Ethics at springer.com you can

Sign up for our Table of Contents Alerts
Get to know the complete Editorial Board
Find submission information