International Entrepreneurship and Management Journal
Editors: S. Roig

- Publishes high quality manuscripts dealing with entrepreneurship and the management of entrepreneurial organizations
- Highlights important implications for business practice
- Features manuscripts that are international in scope as well as papers investigating domestic issues with global relevance
- Covers a broad spectrum of organizations, from new ventures to family-owned businesses to large corporations

The International Entrepreneurship and Management Journal (IEMJ) provides a venue for high quality manuscripts dealing with entrepreneurship in its broadest sense and the management of entrepreneurial organizations. The editorial board encourages manuscripts that are international in scope; however, readers can also find papers investigating domestic issues with global relevance.

IEMJ is dedicated to investigating entrepreneurship across a broad spectrum of organizations, from new ventures to family-owned businesses to large corporations. Manuscripts accepted for publication have important implications for business practice. Papers that focus on basic research, for example, often highlight the potential impact the authors’ findings may have on business.

A sample of journal topics includes entrepreneurship and its relation to management and strategy; interfaces between entrepreneurship and technological innovation; and the impact of public policy on entrepreneurial ventures.
