Petrology

Editor-in-Chief: O.A. Bogatikov

- ▶ Explores magmatic, metamorphic, and experimental petrology, mineralogy, and geochemistry
- ▶ Covers all aspects of theoretical, experimental, and applied petrology
- ▶ Focuses on the petrography of different regions of the former Soviet Union, offering unique understanding of Eurasian geology

Petrology (Petrologiya) is a journal of magmatic, metamorphic, and experimental petrology, mineralogy, and geochemistry. The journal offers comprehensive information on all multidisciplinary aspects of theoretical, experimental, and applied petrology. By giving special consideration to studies on the petrography of different regions of the former Soviet Union, Petrology provides readers with a unique opportunity to refine their understanding of the geology of the vast territory of the Eurasian continent.

PEER REVIEW Petrology is a peer reviewed journal. We use a double blind peer review format. Our team of reviewers includes over 100 experts from 7 countries (Russian Federation, Germany, USA, Canada, Australia, South Africa, France). The average period from submission to first decision in 2018 was 30 days, and that from first decision to acceptance was 90 days. The rejection rate for submitted manuscripts in 2018 was 60%. The final decision on the acceptance of an article for publication is made by the Editorial Board.

Any invited reviewer who feels unqualified or unable to review the manuscript due to the conflict of interests should promptly notify the editors and decline the invitation. Reviewers should formulate their statements clearly in a sound and reasoned way so that authors can use reviewer's arguments to improve the manuscript. Personal criticism of the authors must be avoided. Reviewers should indicate in a review (i) any relevant published work that has not been cited by the authors, (ii) anything that has been reported in previous publications and not given appropriate reference or citation, (iii) any substantial similarity or overlap with any other manuscript (published or unpublished) of which they have personal knowledge.

Impact Factor: 1.274 (2018), Journal Citation Reports®
