Series Ed.: S. Gatenio Gabel

SpringerBriefs present concise summaries of cutting-edge research and practical applications. Featuring compact volumes of 50 to 125 pages, the series covers a range of content from professional to academic. Typical topics might include:

- A timely report of state-of-the art analytical techniques
- A bridge between new research results, as published in journal articles, and a contextual literature review
- A snapshot of a hot or emerging topic
- An in-depth case study or clinical example
- A presentation of core concepts that students must understand in order to make independent contributions

SpringerBriefs in Human Rights and Social Work Practice explore the applicability of a human rights framework to social policy analysis, international social development, advocacy, and research. Briefs are characterized by fast, global electronic dissemination and expedited production schedules.
