Vocations and Learning

Studies in Vocational and Professional Education

Editors-in-Chief: S. Billett; C. Harteis
Associate Editors: S. Choy; J. Bauer; L. Filliettaz

- An international forum for peer-reviewed papers focused on vocational and professional education
- Presents studies on teaching and learning in vocational education
- Offers critical appraisals of contemporary policies, practices and initiatives
- Reports on progress in related fields: psychology, philosophy, sociology, anthropology, history, cultural studies, labour studies, industrial relations and economics

Vocations and Learning: Studies in Vocational and Professional Education provides an international forum for papers on the broad field of vocational learning, across a range of settings: vocational colleges, schools, universities, workplaces, domestic environments, voluntary bodies, and more. Coverage includes such topics as curriculum and pedagogy practices for vocational learning; the role and nature of knowledge in vocational learning; the relationship between context and learning in vocational settings; analyses of instructional practice and policy in vocational learning and education; studies of teaching and learning in vocational education; and the relationships between vocational learning and economic imperatives, and the practices and policies of national and trans-national agencies. This peer-reviewed journal aims to enhance the contribution of research and scholarship to vocational education policy and practice, and also to inspire new research in this diverse field.

Impact Factor: 1.343 (2018), Journal Citation Reports*

On the homepage of Vocations and Learning at springer.com you can

- Sign up for our Table of Contents Alerts
- Get to know the complete Editorial Board
- Find submission information