ASEAN Studies

Subseries of SpringerBriefs in Environment, Security, Development and Peace

Series Ed.: H.G. Brauch

ASEAN Studies (ESDP-AS) is a peer-reviewed book subseries that focuses on the ten countries of the Association of South East Asian Studies (ASEAN): Brunei, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand and Viet Nam. It addresses environmental, security, development and peace issues and six dyadic conceptual relationships among them: i) peace and security; ii) peace and environment; iii) development and security; iv) environment and development; v) development and security; and vi) environment and security. ASEAN Studies (ESDP-AS) welcome book proposals from scholars from the social and natural sciences from these 10 countries or those who are working on these four key themes on the ASEAN region or on individual countries. This subseries includes original monographs, edited books (e.g. workshop proceedings or research reports) and very good academic qualification studies (PhD and Ma/Msc theses). A key goal of this subseries is to give scholars from the global South more voice and visibility in the peer reviewed literature.
