The Indian Journal of Surgical Oncology is the official publication of the Indian Association of Surgical Oncology. This Journal is founded to promote and encourage development and advancement of Surgical Oncology and allied specialties in India and also to provide a platform for the fellow surgeons to show-case their work at the global level. It publishes full-length papers, reviews, and other articles of academic interest on all aspects of Oncological Research.

All the manuscripts undergo the peer-review process; and articles, with originality in their content, having a valid research methodology, supported by proper reference will be considered for publication. Original Research materials, investigative protocols of both surgical and combined modalities of treatment, including basic research will find preference.
