Israel Journal of Health Policy Research
Editor-in-Chief: A. Israeli; B. Rosen

► Official journal of The Israel National Institute for Health Policy and Health Services Research
► The Israel National Institute for Health Policy and Health Services Research covers the article processing charge for commissioned commentaries and for other manuscripts that are clearly relevant to the Israeli health care system
► Linked articles giving national and international perspectives

Israel Journal of Health Policy Research (IJHPR) publishes on health policy, health services research, public health, health promotion, health economics, health care management, and the ethics, sociology, and political science of health care in Israel, with the aim of promoting intensive intellectual interactions among scholars and practitioners from Israel and other countries.

This journal seeks to disseminate information about the achievements and dilemmas of Israeli health care, to facilitate dialogue between experts from Israel and elsewhere, and to enhance the extent to which Israel and other countries can learn from one another’s health systems. The journal publishes paired research and commentary articles, one (either research or commentary) giving the Israeli perspective with the linked article giving the international perspective.

Impact Factor: 2.385 (2020), Journal Citation Reports®

Giving authors in their area of expertise the opportunity to publish open access ► High visibility thanks to unrestricted online access
► Rigorous peer-review and high-quality author services
► Creative Commons licensed – authors retain copyright
► Citation tracking and inclusion in bibliographic databases
► Easy compliance with open access mandates